Townsend Old Age Pension Issue Flares In House

DEBATE OVER BILL STARTS WITH BATTLE

Speaker Byrnes Predicts Defeat of Issue; Solons in Angry Turmoil

ARGUMENTS LIMITED

Indications Point to Vote on Security Bill Last of Next Week or Later

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, April 11.—(UP)—The house defeated the Townsend old age pension and Lunden unemployment insurance bills today in a test vote.

The vote was 198 to 54 and came just before adoption of the rule permitting 20 hours of general debate.

The left-wing factions sprang a surprise move in an effort to defeat the rule governing the administration's social security program. Defeat of the rule would have meant a renewed fight over procedure and would have set the bill back some days.

The bloc forced a vote on a proposal to revise the rule so as to make definitely in order the Townsend and Lunden social insurance bills as substitutes for the conservative administration measure.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(UP)—The Townsend Old Age Pension issue flared in the house today as consideration of the administration's social security bill began.

In the parliamentary tangle which followed, Speaker Joseph W. Byrnes almost broke a gavel trying to calm the members.

The initial controversy indicated a stormy legislative road ahead for the bill, which was brought up under a wide-open rule permitting offering of virtually any kind of substitute proposal.

Rep. Joseph D. Monaghan, D. Mont., advocate of the Townsend plan, started the fireworks. He arose to a "point of personal privilege" which neither Byrnes nor any member of the house could figure out. Monaghan's main thesis was that the right to speak should be safeguarded, and he had not been allotted any time.

"Under the guise of a point of personal privilege the gentleman is making a demagogic speech to constituents in behalf of the Townsend plan," shouted Rep. John J. O'Connor, chairman of the rules committee.

MERCHANTS DISPLAY SPRING STYLES TONIGHT

Woman Loses Skirt In Heavy Gales

MILWAUKEE, April 11.—(UP)—J. Gilbert Hickcox today asked city officials to remove a skirt swishing from the topmost branches of an elm tree opposite his home. It was a blustery day, and a young woman was standing at a bus stop. The wind unwrapped her "wrap around" skirt and carried it into the tree top. The young lady disappeared.

"I've been waiting for her to come back, but she hasn't and I think the city ought to remove it," he explained.

SILVER PRICES ARE ADVANCED DURING NIGHT

Administration Seeks to Speed Advancing Commodity Prices

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(UP)—The administration sought today to speed advancing commodity prices by paying more for domestically mined silver.

Silver prices were boosted overnight from 64.64 cents to 71.11 cents an ounce. The action was expected to furnish the psychological effect for price increases and expand the money issuing base by increasing silver production.

Although the action merely gives domestic silver producers a 6-1/2 cent increase in price, or less than $2,000,000 additional annually on present production, its importance was believed to lie in its indication of the future monetary policy of the United States.

Heavy United States purchases in world silver markets during the past week, together with the higher domestic price, was believed to show the government's determination to rehabilitate silver.

The increased domestic silver buying price is arrived at by the government in taking 45 per cent of the silver received as seigniorage and coining or printing the remainder at the monetary value of $1,232 1/2 per ounce. This yields the producer 71.11 cents per ounce. Previously 50 per cent was taken as seigniorage, yielding the miner only 64.64 cents. The increase was effective as of April 10.

President Roosevelt in his proclamation raising the silver price gave no explanation for the move. The world price of the metal, however, in response to treasury buying had been boosted to 64-1/8 cents yesterday from a recent low of 45 cents. It was, obviously, a move to give domestic producers an advantage over foreign sellers, but at the same time was believed a further step toward eventually free coinage of silver.

LYNCHBURG, Va., April 11.—(UP)—"Dixie" Howell, Alabama football star who is trying to win a berth with the Detroit Tigers as an outfielder, was injured seriously during the batting practice of the Cincinnati Reds here today.

A foul line drive from Johnny Mize's bat struck him in the right cheek as he was warming up on the sidelines. The cheek bone possibly was fractured and there may be a fracture of the skull.

LARGER ORANGE CROP BRINGS BETTER PRICES TO GROWERS OF VALENCIAS, REPORT SAYS

A BETTER price for a larger crop of Valencia oranges than was harvested last year, is indicated at the present time, declared L. B. Wahlwend, assistant sales manager of the Fruit Growers exchange, who was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Foothill Farm Center last night at Villa Park with Frank Collins presiding.

Returns of oranges exported this year, there are but 4300 cars of oranges to be shipped from California and 3800 to go from Florida, clearing the markets at an earlier date than usual for valencias.

In touching on conditions abroad in regard to the valencia markets, the speaker stated that competing oranges in Spain had been reduced by 60 per cent by weather conditions and that in Palestine, heavy rains had greatly reduced the crop in that country. While the Brazilian crop is normal, the sizes are large and are not so acceptable to

EIGHT STATES FORMER OHIO UNDER PALL OF CONGRESSMAN BLINDING DUST AWARDED POST

Mud Falls From Skies as Snow and Rains Fail to Ease Suffering

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 11.—(UP)—A thick dust pall hung over eight states today. It appeared to be thinning with maddening slowness. Visibility from Central Missouri to Tucumcari, N. M., was zero-zero most of the way.

In the Oklahoma panhandle the shifting silt blotted out the wheel tracks of automobiles, trucks and wagons bearing the household goods of farmers fleeing from the dust. More than 100 families have left already.

In western Kansas the dust shrouded rural farms. From Garden City southwest the wheat crop was a complete failure. Discouraged farmers applied for federal funds with which to leave now barren farms. They learned there was no money for that purpose.

Dust from Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Texas spread across west, north and south over Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and New Mexico.

In Washington congressmen and senators pleaded with President Roosevelt for federal money with which to list dust-breaks in the afflicted regions. But in many counties of western Kansas, where $250,000 already is available for supplying oil and gasoline for tractors, farmers could not get to town to claim their supplies.

"Rain of Blood"
Eastern Kansas communities experienced a light "rain of blood."

All Stores Decorated For Event

"Hospitality Night" to Be Observed; Thousands Expected Here

A FRIENDLY spirit of hospitality will blend with gaiety, color and music tonight as Santa Ana merchants unite to stage their first "Spring review and Hospitality Night" program.

The downtown business district will be a blaze of light, with practically every merchant planning to take part in the event. Banks, building and loan companies and other concerns not distinctly retail stores also will keep their places of business open to participate in the spirit of the event.

The event tonight is expected to surpass anything yet attempted by the merchants, according to Walter Swansberger, chairman of the committee from the retail division of the chamber of commerce, in charge of the activity.

Thousands of residents of Orange county are expected to accept the hearty invitation from local merchants to come down town tonight to inspect the enormous stocks of spring and Easter merchandise and to be guests of the merchants.

Each merchant will stage his own event for the program, some putting on elaborate style shows and others presenting gay and colorful entertainment and music of a widely varying nature. Many merchants planned to give away souvenirs.

Merchants will close their stores at the regular hour today, and reopen them promptly at 7 p. m., remaining open until 9:30 p. m. Windows and stocks will be especially prepared for the event.

HERLIN, April 11.—(UP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Freundlich, brooding over poverty, killed her two children today by throwing them, clasped in each other's arms, from a moving train.

The children were a boy of nine and a daughter three months old. The boy was holding the baby in his arms as the train sped through Westphalia. The mother, who is 31, opened the door and thrust them out.

At first she said the door opened accidentally and they fell out. Police cross-examined her severely. Finally she admitted the crime. She said she had intended to commit suicide by leaping after the children but lost her nerve.

FIRESTONE WORKERS VOTE FOR WALKOUT

AKRON, O., April 11.—(UP)—Union rubber workers at Firestone Tire & Rubber company have voted to strike in protest against the company's refusal to grant union recognition, it was learned on unimpeachable authority today.

More than 90 per cent of those casting votes in the poll conducted by the Firestone local of United Rubber Workers. Federal union favored the walkout.

French-Italian Program is Submitted at Important Meeting in Italy

ASKS LEAGUE ACTION

Demand England Join Italy and France in Strong Action Against Hitler

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)
STRESA, Italy, April 11.—(UP)—France and Italy demanded that Great Britain join them in strong action to curb Germany, while statesmen of the three nations met to chart their course regarding Germany's emergence as a world military power.

The French-Italian program was:

1. France to demand penalties against Germany for any further violation of the Versailles treaty.
2. France and Italy to insist that the German Rhineland, on the German frontier, and the independence of Austria must be inviolable.
3. France and Italy to ask extension of the Locarno treaty now includes Germany, Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia.
4. France to demand that the League of Nations council at its meeting at Geneva Monday insist Germany be removed for "harmful over violation of signed treaties."

The conference met at 10:30 a. m. in historic Isola Bella Castle on a terraced island 600 feet out in beautiful Lake Maggiore from the Stresa water front.

Benito Mussolini of Italy presided, as host.

Sir John Simon of Great Britain, who was understood, was to spend all of today telling of the negotiations he had with Adolf Hitler at Berlin and Anthony Eden, his cabinet aide, had at Moscow, Warsaw and Prague.

France's memorandum, which probably will be published Monday, bares out the French request for convocation of the League council to consider the threat to peace contained in Germany's single-handed denunciation of the military clauses of the Versailles treaty.

Containing eight typed pages, it is pessimistic in tone. It does not predict war, but stresses the seriousness of the crisis, although arguing that it can be solved if efforts are seriously applied.

Foreign Minister Pierre Laval of France submitted the text to Premier Benito Mussolini, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon of Great Britain. He did not ask their approval because the memorandum will be purely French and needs no approval.

Laval, however, prefers to acquaint the others with the arguments contained in it that Germany's act may have serious consequences if respect of treaties is not imposed on all.

Laval brought the finished draft of the memorandum from Paris. It was not considered likely the British would accept it.

Basin Boosted 16,900 Acre Feet In Three Months

SPREADING OF RIVER WATER SHOWS RESULTS

A total of 16,900 acre feet of water was sunk into the underground basin of Orange county through spreading operations in Orange county and by natural absorption in the period from December 8, 1934, to March 15, 1935, it was learned yesterday afternoon in a report made to the board of directors of the Orange County Water District by M. N. Thompson, Orange county flood control engineer.

The flow in the Santa Ana river past the Yorba bridge in the period specified in the report, amounted to 17,000 acre feet, the report said, while the flow past the Anaheim-Olive bridge in the same period amounted to but 200 acre feet.

Natural absorption and spreading is the difference between the two totals, or 16,900 acre feet of water. The greatest absorption occurred between the Yorba and Jefferson street bridges.

Supplementing Thompson's report, Director William Mauerhan, who is in charge of the SERA project sponsored by the water district for spreading water in the river, announced that more water came down the river during the recent storm than in any other period this year.

The last rain, however, took out about nine-tenths of the spreading works erected by the district, Mauerhan said. Men were working today to spread the water which still is coming down the river.

Mauerhan reported that wells are showing higher levels since the spreading operations started and that large quantities of water have been kept from flowing in the ocean and being wasted.

ish or Italians would suggest any modification.

The first decision of the conference was to make the memorandum the first subject of discussion. The morning session opened, after Mussolini's welcome, with a speech by Simon in which he outlined the results of the recent exploratory trips on the continent made by himself and Anthony Eden.

A series of questions were put to Sir John by Mussolini, Laval and Premier Pierre Etienne Flandin of France about points in his statement. Sir John enlarged upon the sketch he had already given the house of commons about Adolf Hitler's attitude towards re-armament and Germany's demand for equality of strength and equality of treatment.

The French declared their first impression of the conference was better than they had expected.

the trade as the smaller sized oranges grown here, the speaker said.

An interesting fact brought out concerning the marketing of the Valencia crop last year, was that one-eighth of the crop was used at soda fountains. The quality of oranges the present year is very good, according to field surveys, said Wahlwend. Canadian markets favor smaller sizes, said the speaker, and a very large increase has been made in the sales in Poland.

Cecil Marks, field secretary of the Orange county farm bureau, gave the directors' report. He stated that, included in resolutions recently adopted it was stated that the directors believed that only in the greatest emergencies should roads be cut through property and that where possible when a road is widened, the land acquired for the widening should be taken from the side of the road opposite the wind break. Marks pointed that the wind break along Tustin avenue, where a secondary highway is to be established, is the longest in the county, running from Olive to 17th street, where a slight jog is made, when it goes on to First street.

A 6:30 o'clock dinner was served with Mr. and Mrs. Royal Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hight and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fitch as the host committee. Bill Tritt's orchestra furnished music. The orchestra is composed of the following: Robert McFarren, Wilbur Cassidy, Robert Jackson, Sam Cooper, Bob Cruzen, Merced Cruz, Harold Larson, Donald Douglas and Tritt.

Walter L. Adams resigned from the citrus committee. A committee, Thomas Hight, Trafford Watson and Royal Mueller were appointed to arrange an entry in the May Day celebration in Orange. W. D. Miller of the Orange County Credit Production association made a brief talk stating that loans of 45 cents a field box will be made this year.

ASK ENDING OF PRIVATE WORK BY OFFICIALS

Charles D. Swanner, Santa Ana attorney, was chosen as president of the Orange County Bar Association at the annual election of officers at the Green Cat cafe, last night, succeeding President Harry L. Dearing of Orange. In its business session, the Bar association adopted recommendations restricting county consolidation, approving consolidation of justice courts, recommending appointment of a public defender in Orange county, and increased salaries in the district attorney's office, with elimination of private law practice from that office.

Other officers elected were: M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana, first vice president; Raymond Thompson, Fullerton, second vice president; Ira Kroese, Santa Ana, third vice president; George Parker, Santa Ana, secretary-treasurer. These officers, with George Holm, of Huntington Beach, constitute the executive committee.

Appointment of Superior Judge Homer G. Ames of Orange county to the post of judge of the federal district court, in Los Angeles, where creation of new judgeships is expected to leave a vacancy, was recommended in a resolution presented by L. A. West and passed by the association.

The recommendation on private practice in the district attorney's office followed a report by a subcommittee of the legislative committee, including Leonard Evans of Anaheim, H. C. Head of Santa Ana and Stanley Reinhaus, Santa Ana, that after an investigation it was felt that private practice was warranted in view of the present level of salaries paid the prosecuting staff.

A motion then was passed instructing the executive committee to confer with the board of supervisors and the district attorney on a proposal to increase the salary of the office of district attorney in 1938, at the end of the term of the present incumbent, and to increase the salaries of his deputies at the beginning of 1936, on condition that one deputy be eliminated from the office and private practice be stopped. The salary of the head of the department, or any elected official, cannot legally be increased during his term of office.

Court Consolidation. Endorsement was given to the plan of eliminating the present 11 township justice courts, and replacing them with a circuit probate justice court, having two judges, who would hold court in the various townships. Such judges would be required to possess full legal qualifications for the bench. The present 12 constables would be replaced by probably two deputy sheriffs, it was said.

The plan, estimated to mean a saving of about $20,000 annually in salaries, was recommended to the Bar association by the Orange County Attorneys' association. The Farm Bureau is said to have first espoused it.

A resolution of the Lake County Bar association urging revision of the present legislative proposal for county consolidation, so that it would be the vote of "the county" before consolidation could be affected, was approved, but was felt to be too ambiguous. The local association changed their resolution to require a vote of "both counties" affected by consolidation.

Public Defender Sought. Because the duties of defending criminal defendants without remuneration, now required of attorneys, is becoming steadily burdensome, the association last night referred to its legislative committee a motion to seek appointment of a public defender in Orange county. There is understood to be a law in force at present which would enable the county to take the step.

Retention of the state bar act was favored by a vote of 3 to 1 among attorneys of the state, in a plebiscite just held, it was reported by Stanley Reinhaus, member of the board of governors of the state bar. The vote in Orange county was 5 to 1, he reported. A bill had been introduced in the legislature to repeal the act.

Reinhaus, L. A. West and Judge R. Y. Williams were named as delegates from the local association to the convention of the American Bar association, scheduled in Los Angeles July 15.

W. A. WARREN DIES SUDDENLY AT WORK

W. A. Warren, 73, of 225 East Palmyra avenue, Orange, dropped dead, suddenly shortly before noon today while mowing a lawn on property at the intersection of Grand street and Maple avenue, Orange. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Warren is survived by a son, R. M. Warren, who is a member of the Orange Union High school faculty.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday from the Coffey Funeral home, Orange.

Breakfasters On Inspection Tour

Members of the Santa Ana Breakfast club were entertained by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce this morning at the regular weekly meeting of the club.

The club enjoyed breakfast at the Newport Harbor Yacht club, and after breakfast took a boat trip around the bay and into the ocean, where they inspected the dredges and the jetties.

YOUTHS HELD FOR TRIAL ON THEFT CHARGE

Three young men, who had never been in jail before, are in the Orange county jail today charged with grand theft as a result of theft of wheels, tires and battery, after becoming drunk Monday night, according to the story they told arresting officers.

The prisoners are Thomas Maurice King, 23, of 155 1-2 West Vernon avenue, Los Angeles, Clyde Leon Hudson, 20, of Sixth and Ocean, Garden Grove, and Jesse Clyde Williams, 22, of Oceanview, near Huntington Beach, former schoolmates in the Huntington Beach schools.

They were officially charged with grand theft today in complaints sworn to by C. W. Wolford, detective of the Santa Ana police department, arraigned before Justice K. E. Morrison, and their preliminary examination set for April 18, with bail fixed at $1500 each.

According to the stories told by the boys to officers, they got together Monday in Santa Ana, with a bottle of gin in the car. While driving about, spotted a Ford roadster at 506 East Washington and decided to take the car, which was the property of Melvin Maxwell of the East Washington address.

The wheels, tires, and tubes were hidden near the Meadowlark Country club, and left there until yesterday about noon, when the youths got together again, and decided to take the stolen articles to Los Angeles to sell. On Soto street, in Los Angeles, they found a dealer in used auto parts who offered $12.50 for the wheels and tires. The deal was closed and the $12.50 was about to be paid to the youths when they were taken in custody by Los Angeles police. Under police grilling, the boys confessed, and they were turned over to Officers Wolford and B. A. Hershey of the Santa Ana police department who brought them to the Orange county jail yesterday afternoon.

Request To Open Library Reference Room Is Denied

A decision not to open the reference room of the city library Sunday afternoons from 1 to 5 o'clock as requested in a petition signed by 65 Santa Ana Junior college students, was reached by the city library board at a meeting last night.

Lack of funds was given as the reason for not opening the reference department on Sunday afternoons. The board held it to be impractical to open this part of the library without making the entire library available, and there are not enough funds for this undertaking.

The board discussed opening the library again Sunday afternoons after the current fiscal year. It has been used but six days a week since the earthquake in 1932.

NIGHT SCHEDULE AT J. C. LIBRARY TOLD

The Santa Ana Junior college library will be open Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock, it was announced today by Miss Lillian L. Dickson, librarian, after a student petition to this effect had been circulated.

An average of 15 students will be required to keep the hall in use evenings.

The college library contains about 6000 books, with something more than that number in the high school library. Until this year the two have worked in conjunction, but owing to the distance that the two are separated now this has become impractical.

CULBERTSONS PILE UP GREATER LEAD

NEW YORK, April 11.—(UP)—The marathon bridge feud of the Ely Culbertsons and the P. Hal Simses approached its end today with 133 of the 150 scheduled rubbers played and the Culbertsons leading by 14,720 points.

The match will end tomorrow. To date the Culbertsons have won 73 rubbers, the Sims 60.

Rain falling through the dust-filled atmosphere left reddish splashes on pavements and the sides of buildings.

Snow bringing up the rear of the dust storm in Goodland, in northwestern Kansas, fell in muddy flakes.

Communities which received the dust second hand from the areas where it was lifted from the already denuded farms were alarmed.

The staccato phrases of press telegrams told the story: Tulsa, Okla.—Worst dust city's history. Visibility two blocks. City lights turned on in daytime.

Hutchinson, Kan.—Terrible dust storm. Visibility less than block. Cars cannot drive safely.

Coffeyville, Kan.—Worst storm of year. No sign of abatement.

St. Joseph, Mo.—Dust arrived 6 o'clock. Visibility two blocks.

Winfield, Kan.—Unprecedented dust storm, visibility hundred feet. From western Kansas, the Oklahoma panhandle and eastern Colorado the reports contained a note of panic, but not surprise. The series of storms of which the present one is merely the latest and worst started March 1. There had been earlier intermittent storms.

TOWNSEND CLUBS

Club No. 3 will be addressed tonight by Paul Andres, who will speak on the subject, "What Is the Gag Rule? Why Use It?" The club meets at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Sixth and Garnsey streets, using the Garnsey street entrance.

"McFadden's Flats," screen version of the internationally famous stage play, opens a three-day engagement at the West Coast theater today with a second feature, "Transient Lady," from Octavus Roy Cohen's popular magazine story.

Audiences all over the world have and still are enjoying the hilarious tale of the simple Irish bricklayer and his fighting friend, the Scotch barber, in "McFadden's Flats." The film marks Walter C. Kelly's motion picture debut.

"Transient Lady" deals with the adventures of three young men who open a skating rink in a small town and run into complications with local politicians that lead to deadly gunfire and the courts of justice. Gene Raymond, Frances Drake, Henry Hull and June Clayworth have the featured roles.

EIGHT STATES SUGGEST PLAN TO INCREASE WATER SAVINGS

A tentative plan to expand the scope of the sewage reclamation experimental plant in Santa Ana to actually reclaim water on a commercial basis was suggested by R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, to members of the board of directors of the Orange County Water District yesterday afternoon in Garden Grove.

It is proposed to investigate the possibility of enlistment of further financial support from all cities, whether or not they are in the Orange county water district territory, and to enlist financial support from the sanitary districts holding membership in the joint outfall district.

The plan is to eventually expand the scope of sewage reclamation operations so that approximately 6500 acre feet of water can be reclaimed annually for irrigation purposes.

Because of the death of O. E. Steward, a new chairman of the Sewage Reclamation Project must be named. The new chairman will be selected at a meeting to be held in the near future.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is the neglect of what seemed to be trifles which fits you to face the big crises of life.
Lowly duties have been endured rather than dignified; small disappointments irritate instead of chastening you. The big task and the crushing blow find you unready in spirit to face them with good courage, firm determination and unwavering faith.
In your hour of trial mobilize your latent strength. Expect only that you will do your best. Your best will be adequate to your needs.

MCCORKELL—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary A. McCorkell, who died April 8 at her home at 1746 Anaheim street, Costa Mesa, will be held Friday from the Preston Funeral home, in Riverside. She is survived by her husband, Isaiah J. McCorkell; two sons, Cliff McCorkell, El Centro, and C. T. McCorkell, Costa Mesa; and one daughter, Mrs. Clyde Jones, Miami, Oklahoma.

STEVENSON—April 11, 1935, at his home, 401 West Sixth street, William H. Stevenson, aged 72 years. Mr. Stevenson had lived in Santa Ana 23 years and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edna E. Stevenson; two sons, W. M. Stevenson, Santa Ana and Dr. S. L. Stevenson, of San Francisco; two sisters, Mrs. D. F. Cook, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Ida A. Campbell, of Idana, Kansas. Notice of funeral will be given later by Smith and Futhill.

WOOD—In Beverly Hills, April 10, William Robert Wood, aged 29 son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Wood, Beverly Hills; grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Cox, of Santa Ana. Funeral to be held Saturday, April 13, at 2:30 p. m. in the Wee Kirk of the Heather, Forest Lawn cemetery, Glendale.

(Funeral Notice)
PATTON—Private funeral services for Mrs. Lillie Patton, who passed away April 8, 1935, in Santa Ana, will be held 11 a. m. tomorrow, at the Harrell and Brown Funeral home, 118 West Seventeenth street; the Rev. W. J. Hatter officiating. Mrs. Patton was the wife of Edward A. Patton, who passed away last December, and sister of A. H. Voshburg, of Wilmette, Ill.

PROSECUTION OPENS TODAY IN MURDER TRIAL

After a full day spent in selection of a jury, the first prosecution evidence was presented today at the trial of Dr. F. D. Coltrin, elderly Fullerton physician, charged with performing an illegal operation on the daughter of a 16-year-old Santa Ana girl.
Mrs. Mary Valentine, mother of the girl, told the pathetic story of her daughter, an expectant mother, and of the trip to Dr. Coltrin's office in Fullerton last February 4, where she claimed the operation was performed which resulted in the high school girl's death 10 days later, on St. Valentine's day.
Dr. J. J. Montanus, county autopsy surgeon, a little later, backed up the assertion that an illegal operation was responsible for the girl's death.
Mrs. Valentine testified that her daughter when the visit was made to Dr. Coltrin. She did not see the operation performed, having waited in an adjoining room, she said, but she told of asserted financial arrangements made in a visit to the physician January 30, when he demanded $50 fee, she said, but compromised by agreeing to take a portion of it in cash and the girl's watch.
On cross examination, she denied that she knew that her daughter had been visiting other physicians and taking medicine in an effort to relieve her of her condition, prior to seeing Dr. Coltrin.

Opening Statement
Before the initial witness was called, Deputy District Attorney L. Davis made the prosecution's opening statement to the jury, saying the state would show various matters relating to the operation and the girl's subsequent death; including the testimony of Dr. Coltrin himself before the coroner's jury and later before the county grand jury, to the effect that he considered such operations justifiable in order to "help girls out of trouble," but that in the Valentine case, he discovered that someone else had already performed an operation. The latter part of the statement would be proved untrue, Davis said.
Davis concluded his statement by saying he would show that when Deputy Sheriff James Workman was sent to notify Dr. Coltrin that the district attorney wanted to interview him about "an illegal operation upon a girl," just before Miss Valentine's death, Dr. Coltrin inquired, "Which girl?"

The defense reserved its statement to the jury until it begins presenting its side of the case. Attorneys Sharpless Waring, Dr. O. A. Jacobs, representing Dr. Coltrin, interposed frequent objections to prosecution evidence, and gave other indications of making a stubborn defense.
Yesterday, Attorney Walker even objected because the state's attorneys are seated at the counsel table nearest to the jury. Judge H. G. Ames refused to change the seating arrangement, which is customary in that court, he said.
Then Attorney Walker wanted the table moved so that counsel for both state and defense would be directly facing the jury, from an equal distance. But Judge Ames remarked that the table had occupied its position for 20 years, and would not now be changed.

Jury Selected
Selection of the jury was completed just before adjournment yesterday, after the state had exercised 11 peremptory challenges and the defense had excused 14 jurors by that route. In addition the state challenged two jurors for "cause" when they admitted prejudice.
One of them, Mrs. Helen Smith, of Fullerton, asked to be excused, explaining that she had heard so much about the case that she believed she would be prejudiced. She was not acquainted with Dr. Coltrin, she said, and had not talked with witnesses, but had heard the case discussed frequently.
The jury, as finally completed, includes: Ruth K. Guyton, Garden Grove; B. H. Petrie, Silverado; J. G. Allen, Garden Grove; May Farrar, Tustin; Virginia E. Kelly, Fullerton; Violet Brand, Santa Ana; Herbert Worsham, Yorba Linda; A. Chester Peck, Placentia; W. H. Einsman, Santa Ana; Mrs. J. C. Huscroft, Orange; Frank A. Borth, Anaheim, and Mrs. Ida Dunphy, Santa Ana.

IMPROVEMENTS ON NEW AUTOS SHOWN

Important mechanical improvements designed to give improved riding, greater ease of control and better performance are features of the new Lincoln for 1935, which was shown here for the first time today at the showrooms of George Dunton, Lincoln dealer, where a special Lincoln exhibition is now under way.
"Important among the engineering advancements is the utilization of a combination of chassis improvements to give a new degree of riding comfort on all types of roads," Dunton said. "These changes include a new distribution of car weight, a ride stabilizer, more flexible chassis springs and relocation of passenger seats.
"Other important engineering improvements provide greater ease of control, a feature appealing particularly to women drivers. Gear shifting has been made exceptionally easy by improvements in the gear synchronizing mechanism. The effectiveness of the vacuum power brakes is readily adjusted with a dash control to suit road or weather conditions."

FIGURE ON SHARE OF RIVER FLOW FOR ORANGE COUNTY TO BE SET BY BOARD TONIGHT

Members of the board of directors of the Orange County Water District will meet tonight to determine a figure which they believe should be set as Orange county's fair share of water which should be allowed to flow down the Santa Ana river into this county from upper river counties.

Meeting yesterday afternoon in Garden Grove, the directors decided to meet again tonight to study the data obtained by James Irvine in prosecuting his suit against upper county water interests to restrain them from spreading water to the harm of this county. It is expected that the amount of water to be demanded will be determined on the information contained in the Irvine data.

Following the meeting tonight, the directors will journey to Riverside tomorrow to confer with officials of the Tri-County Water Conservation association in an attempt to arbitrate the differences between Orange county and the upper river interests and to settle on a basis of how much water the upper counties should allow to come down the river before starting spreading operations.

Attorney A. W. Ruffan and Consulting Engineer Paul Bailey will assist the local directors in the deliberations tomorrow, which are considered of great importance in the movement launched to try to settle the differences between the Orange County Water District and the upper counties in regard to water.

It was learned also that the directors from Orange county will meet tomorrow with representatives of Riverside and San Bernardino counties to further plans and taking medicine in an effort to relieve her of her condition, prior to seeing Dr. Coltrin.

Details of the plan to secure water from the Mojave river were published exclusively in The Register recently. Importation of surplus waters from the Mojave river would give each of the three counties annually about 13,000 acre feet of water, it is believed. The project contemplated would be self-liquidating in that the water could be sold and power developed through the plan could be sold.

A report from Consulting Engineer Bailey was read, in which he advised the directors to purchase from Irvine the data assembled in prosecuting the federal suit against the upper counties of the district planned to go ahead with plans for arbitration of the differences between Orange county and the upper counties, or continue the legal action. Directors accepted the report and approved a bill for $375 submitted by Bailey for seven and a half days' work.

It is estimated that the average motorist drives 7200 miles a year and gets an average of 12 miles a gallon of gasoline.

WATER BOARD ADOPTS FIVE POINT PROGRAM

A five-point program for carrying out the policies of the Orange County Water District was adopted by the board of directors of the district was organized primarily yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting in Garden Grove.

Pointing out that the district now has funds available for carrying out the ordinary routine business of the district and that the district was organized primarily for the conservation and replenishment of the surface and subsurface waters of the lands within the boundaries of the district, the resolution called for the appointment of standing committees to take charge of the various activities.

The committees will have power to fully investigate the various programs, to contact such agencies as are necessary to accomplish the desired purposes and are to report to the board at each monthly meeting as to what progress is being made.

It was pointed out in the resolution that there are five distinct ways in which conservation and replenishments may be accomplished.

These are by the sinking of flood waters in the gravels in the upper reaches of the Santa Ana river within the district; by the reclamation of the sewage waters of the cities of Orange county; by the importation of waters from outside sources such as the Metropolitan Water District and the Mojave river, if it shall be deemed feasible; by the adjudication of the water rights of all parties entitled to water from the Santa Ana river and its tributaries, both natural waters and what is termed flood waters; and by saving about 17,000 acre feet annually which is believed to be lost by evaporation and transportation along the Santa Ana river.

The resolution, presented by Director William Wallop, was approved by all members of the board.

ILLEGAL USE OF FUND FOR RELIEF CHARGED

Charging that the $24,000,000 relief bonds voted by the state last year are being illegally expended, and citing the $5,000,000 allocation to private cooperative associations as an example, County Supervisor William C. Jerome, of Santa Ana, departed last evening for San Francisco to attend tomorrow's meeting of the emergency relief committee of the California Association of County Supervisors.

Just before his departure, Jerome announced that he has been invited to speak before the Association of Public Welfare, which meets in San Francisco May 4 and 5.

Jerome's subject, he said, would be, "As a Supervisor Sees Relief Through Welfare."

Today's session of the supervisor relief committee, called to discuss relief budgets for next year, will be unable to set up a budget until they know the extent of both national and state relief programs, said the local supervisor, who said he would work for that objective during the committee's deliberations.

The supervisors' association, he stated, has outlined a tentative four-point program in connection with relief programs, as follows:

- 1—Creation of an official body to serve as spokesman for the state in obtaining an equitable share of federal relief funds.
- 2—Such commission to lay down a definite policy of allocation of state relief money to the counties, based on population, assessed valuation of property, and case load.
- 3—Such commission also to have a definite policy affecting alien and non-resident cases, which are not legally a state problem, but which have been partially cared for by the state, through the co-mingling of state and federal relief money.
- 4—A definite policy to prevent SERA from competing with private industry in the local labor markets.

INTERMISSION PROVIDED FOR THEATER EVENT

Aware of the general interest in this city of "Bank Night" as maintained by the Fox Broadway theater, Santa Ana Community players are showing their co-operation with theatrical interests, by arranging for an intermission from 9 to 9:30 o'clock tonight in their One-Act Play contest program in Eboli clubhouse.

Mrs. Robert S. Wade, program chairman, today made the announcement of this intermission. She explained that the interval would allow those in the audience, sufficient time to go to the theater while names are called, so that potential winners of the award may be present.

For those who remain in Eboli auditorium, there will be music arranged by Leland Auer and his High School orchestra, and announcements of future association events by Mrs. Wade and by Frank Lansdown. The latter will discuss the annual Southern California tournament of One-Act Plays to be held in Eboli auditorium on the nights of April 25, 26 and 27.

Tonight's program will be made up of the four original one-act plays chosen by Miss Rose Borum and her committee, as the best of the many submitted in the Playwrights' second annual one-act play-writing contest. Authors are Miss Eva Doyle, Miss Frances Donovan and Arthur E. Collins, who had two one-acts accepted. Judges will be Miss Mabel Pruitt, Miss Clara Macomber and Allan Vaughan Elston.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX

For further great address the author, including a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

A dozen different Paris streets lead spoke-wheel fashion directly into the Place de l'Etoile—final resting place of the French Unknown Soldier. In the center of the place is the Arc de Triomphe, noted Paris landmark and largest triumphal arch in the world, commemorating the military victories of the French armies of the Revolution and those under Napoleon.

The principal street leading into the place is the avenue des Champs Elysees, which with avenue de la Grande Armee, forms part of Paris's main traffic artery. Among other streets radiating from the place are avenue du Bois de Boulogne, avenue Victor Hugo, avenue Kleber, avenue d'Iena, avenue Marceau, avenue Hoche, avenue Friedland, which connects with Boulevard Haussmann, named for Baron Haussmann who planned the place as part of a beautification plan for Paris, and avenue de Wagram.

California's giant trees are not the only trees that grow so large as to be used for natural archways. Even the slow-growing oak attains great age and size. The famous Greendale oak in Welbeck was so large that the Duke of Portland ordered an archway cut through it 10 feet high and more than six feet wide so that he could drive a carriage and six horses through it.

Jimmy Archer became a great catcher because he had his arm broken and badly set. The bone knelt at an off angle, giving Archer a peculiar ability to make quick throws to second from the plate.

Tomorrow: The uphill avalanche.

INSPECTOR TO VISIT SONS OF VETERANS

NO OTHER element in nature, with the possible exception of air, has as much to do with health as has water. Nature emphasized the importance of water to the human organism when she made water the main ingredient of the body. Water acts as a regulating agency for cleansing and purifying the whole system.

Admitting the urgency for drinking plenty of water, it is self-evident that the more water taken into the system the more urgent is the demand that that water be PURE.

LIONS VISIT HARBOR CLUB; INSPECT BAY

Members of the Santa Ana Lions club inspected the site of the new Orange county harbor yesterday as guests of the Newport Harbor Service club. The group was escorted over the harbor and to the sites where the four dredgers are removing 8,000,000 cubic yards of sand from the bay by Captain C. B. Cruze, in charge of the development work for the United States government, and Harbormaster Thomas Bouchey.

Proceeding the trip over the bay the two clubs met at luncheon at the American Legion hut, the program being presided over jointly by Walter Spicer, former Lions club president and former president of the Newport Harbor Service club, and by Judge Kenneth Morrison, president of the Lions club.

The informal program featured short talks by Homer Chaney, assistant trust officer of the First National bank in Santa Ana; Dr. Elliott Rowland, Santa Ana, and Victor Walker, of the Santa Ana club. Frank Pierce, accompanied by E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist, sang two numbers, "Morning on the Holy Hills" and "O Sole Mio."

Announcement was made that the Newport club fishing trip, to be held by members of the service club on the live bait boat Valencia, would take place April

DISCUSS PENSION AT MESA MEETING

COSTA MESA, April 11.—An interpretation of the latest revision of the Townsend Old Age Pension plan as it was presented to Congress recently was given to sponsors of the plan and others by Leroy P. Anderson at a meeting in the chapel of the Community church Monday night.

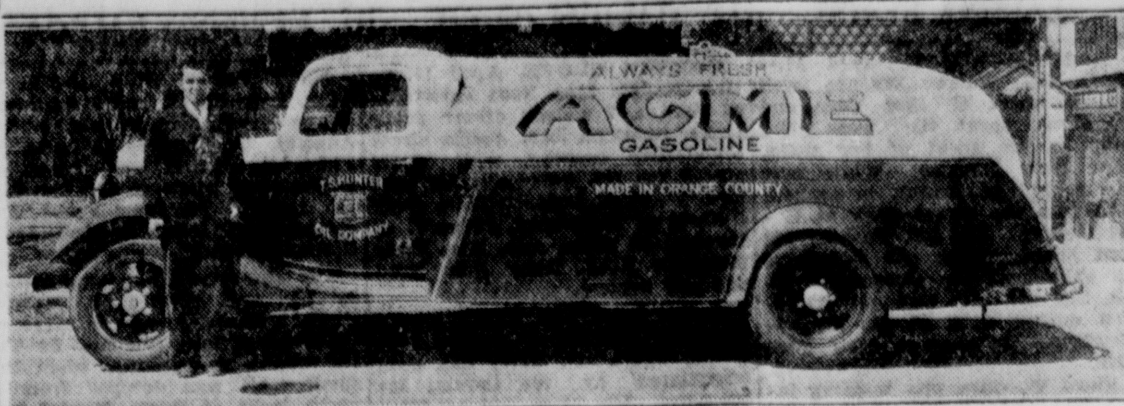

W. W. Middleton, secretary of Townsend club No. 1 of Costa Mesa, read bulletins on procedure of the measure at Washington. The program was supplemented by a radio address by William R. Peeler, of Los Angeles. E. A. Spaulding, president of club number 1, was in charge.

Announcement was made by J. O. Tallman, secretary of club number 3, that the club had attained a paid up membership of 140. Club number 2, of North Costa Mesa, reported a membership of 175, and club number 1 reported over 200 members.

Tallman announced that club number 3 will hold a cooked-food sale at 1308 Newport boulevard Saturday as a benefit. He also announced that next week's mass meeting is being arranged by Mrs. J. O. Tallman, chairman of club number 3.

GASOLINE TRUCKS GO STREAMLINE

Streamlining has invaded all fields of motor transportation, and below is shown a new streamline gasoline truck which delivers Acme, the "Always Fresh" gasoline, to Orange county stations, together with Gilbert Colbeck, its driver. The truck is the property of the T. S. Hunter Oil company and was specially built in Los Angeles to Hunter's specifications. It is mounted upon a Ford V-8 chassis and has a carrying capacity of 1000 gallons of Acme gasoline, made from Huntington Beach crude and the only gasoline produced and distributed in Orange county. There are now 15 Acme dealers in Orange county, according to F. M. Moore, salesmanager for the Social Oil and Refining company, Acme producers.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By DAN THOMAS, Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 11.—Will it be a boy or a girl?

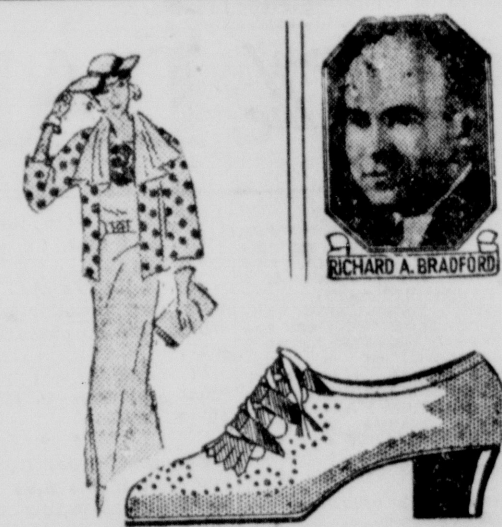

Only the flapping wings of Old Man Stark can bring the answer to that question. Yet it's one asked frequently in Hollywood these days. That can mean only one thing.

Yes, you're right. The famous old bird is expected to make frequent visits to the film colony this summer. At least six potential actors or actresses will be born in the homes of cinema celebrities during the next four or five months.

Richard Dix's wife has hospital reservations for the latter part of May. Norma Shearer expects to greet her second child in June. Gloria Stuart names July as the big month. So does Molly O'Day. June Collier is counting the days until mid-August. And Marguerite Churchill will become mama at about the same time.

Most of the rooting is for boys—which probably means the town's feminine population will be increased. And then the proud parents will say, "Why, we wanted a girl all the time." Only Norma Shearer and June Collier have expressed a desire for daughters.

WALTER MILLS TO SPEAK AT FORUM FRIDAY

Townsend pensions and the threat of Fascism in America will be the diverse topics joined in a talk to be given at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Unitarian church, corner Bush and Eighth streets, under the auspices of the American Open Forum.

Walter Thomas Mills, who says that he will spend the remainder of his days working for the Townsend plan, is the opening speaker on the newly formed forum, which is headed by P. A. Rogers. The forum, according to Rogers, is expected to bring speakers who will talk on topics of the day and the problems of the nations rather than on theoretical subjects. Plans are being made to bring Manchester Boddy to Santa Ana to discuss "Social Credits." Judge Ben Lindsey on juvenile and other delinquency, and Bruce Anthony on another phase of social and economic problems.

Mills has been heard in this city a number of times. In a letter sent to a friend in this city he states that he has been asked to tour the Pacific Coast in the interests of the Townsend organization, but that illness of Mrs. Mills has made it necessary for him to limit his speaking area to the vicinity of Los Angeles.

The veteran speaker, who claims to have contacted every person of political note in the English speaking world during the last 40 years, has just completed a book of his experiences.

The plan of the forum, as explained by Rogers, is to allow questions following the talk by the main speaker. No admission charge is to be made.

New Oil Test Scheduled For Huntington Beach

LEASES BEING SIGNED IN 10 BLOCK SECTION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 11.—A new test for oil on the east side of the Huntington Beach district is in prospect today, as operators are assembling leases in that district. George W. Wardwell and John H. Gore are attempting to secure a block of approximately 10 city blocks, running from Indianapolis street on the north to Alabama on the west and Frankfort on the south and east sides. According to Gore and Wardwell, it is their plan to make tests in a well on the Wardwell property on Huntington and Indianapolis streets, and later to drill several new wells, if developments warrant.

GREYHOUND RACING MAY PAY OFF LEGION'S MORTGAGE

Soon we'll be going to the dogs. Greyhound racing, one of the most popular of current diversions, is to be introduced here within a month.

The American Legion Bugle and Drum corps will sponsor the track. The Legionnaires have a lease on the old Orange County Fair grounds at the intersection of Placentia boulevard and Highway 101, propose to have a gala opening within a month, probably on Sunday, May 5.

The track will be lighted but at the outdoor racing will be confined to Sunday afternoons, according to George Kellogg, the corps' business manager.

The Legion organization hopes to clear enough to become self-supporting. Kellogg states emphatically that none of the profit is to leave Orange county. The first objective, he declares, will be to raise departmental funds, the ultimate aim to pay off a $18,000 mortgage on Legion Hall in Santa Ana.

To launch this ambitious program, the bugle corps promoted midweek auto racing every week in the Municipal Bowl last summer and the Legion proper openly competed with Santa Ana merchants in the sale of Fourth of July fireworks. There will be no races this year, and no fireworks sold. The meet drew well enough but after the city had taken its rental and the drivers and their associates had had their pound of flesh, the Legionnaires had less than $700 to show for the entire season. They concluded the risk was worth more, turned to the puppies.

Dog-racing and wagering are almost synonymous, and I asked Kellogg about that. He said that gambling positively will not be tolerated at the Legion's track, at least until the state legalizes pari-mutuel betting. Such a bill is now before the legislature, having been reported favorably out of committee. Even if it passes, the bugle corps may not go for it.

FIVE RECORDS FALL AT SWIMMING MEET

CHICAGO, April 11. — (UP) — Katherine Rawls, 18-year-old Miami Beach, Fla., girl, today was well on her way to being the outstanding star of the National women's swimming and diving championships as the meet entered its second night at the Lake Shore Athletic club.

On opening night Miss Rawls won two championships and established two National records. She won the 100-yard yard free style in a minute, 3 seconds, clipping four-tenths of a second off the former record made by Lenore Knight, two years ago. An hour later she won the 300-yard individual medley in 4 minutes, 5.6 seconds, breaking her own record of 4:12.2.

Three other records fell last night in exhibitions. Jack Medina, U. of Washington, added the 300-yard American and world records to his long list of marks by swimming that event in 3:04.4, bettering the former mark of 3:06.8 made by Jimmy Gilchrist.

Adolph Kiefer, 16-year-old high school boy, shattered two backstroke records, swimming the 400 meters in 5:17.8 for a new world mark and the 500 yards in 6:01.5 for a new American mark.

City Leaguers To Retain '34 Ball Rules

No matter what the National Little League does about its nocturnal baseball rules this season, the Santa Ana City League will continue to employ 45-foot bases, a 35-foot pitching distance and a 13 1/2 inch ball.

Meeting in the offices of City Auditor Lloyd Banks, the City Leaguers last night voted unanimously to proceed this summer under 1934 rules and regulations.

Justice Kenneth Morrison was re-elected president and all other officials were returned to office. Banks will be secretary-treasurer, and T. J. Neal and S. B. Kaufman will remain commissioners.

Monday, May 13 was designated as the official starting night. Doubledays will be played Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, each game going seven innings. There will be the customary split season and playoff series, teams playing once-around in each half.

President Morrison said there is an opening for one more club. Seven have been admitted to date: First National bank, Commercial National bank, Union Oil, Elks, Twenty-Third club, and two South Methodist church teams. The first team that complies with entrance requirements will get the final franchise.

Lacy, Jr. see Pitcher, at Of Owl Tilt

Santa Ana and Citrus, the teams destined to occupy the cellar position in Eastern conference baseball standings this season, meet on the Glendora diamond in the second round of jaycee play tomorrow.

The league spotlight will be focused on the "championship" game between Pomona's Red Raiders and Fullerton's Hornets on the Fullerton diamond Saturday. Pomona blanked Santa Ana, 7-0, while it ate pitcher, Wes Piper, struck out 19 Dons; and Fullerton defeated Riverside's strong aggregation, 2-0, in first-round games. Sun Bernardino consistently powerful in baseball, walloped the Citrus Owls, 6-2.

It was doubtful today whether Tom Lacy, Santa Ana pitcher, would be eligible for the Citrus fray. He will be replaced by Lou Madden, who earned his letter as an outfielder last season. Dave Styling or Cliff Lee will catch. Yoshiki Yoshida, left; Harry Owens, 2b; Clyde Birdsong, ss; Dick Moore, 3b; Allen Mackey, Charles Hall and Harold Youel in the outfield compose Santa Ana's probable lineup.

The Dons are paying for all the victories they scored over the high school last season. They took it on the chin again, 9-1, in another "civil war" game at Poly field. The Saints won the first contest last week 8-1.

TAYLOR AND SMITH TELL APPRECIATION

Thanks for support extended in Monday's election was issued today by Ridley C. Smith, winning candidate for a seat on the school board, and Wilfred Taylor, a defeated candidate whose splendid showing of votes indicated the esteem in which he is held.

"I want to thank $380 voters for the expression of confidence and good will their vote signified to me," said Taylor, "and I extend congratulations and best wishes to the elected members of the board of education."

Thanks to the Register for publication of election announcements and news items were conveyed in a letter from Smith, who also thanked voters of the city as follows:

"I wish to express my appreciation to all those who have placed their vote of confidence in my ability to serve them during the coming term of the Santa Ana board of education. It is indeed gratifying to learn that I have so many friends. I hope that I will meet with their expectations and I assure them that I will endeavor to merit their confidence by trying to fulfill this trust to the best of my ability and will try at all times to do so by using my best judgment in meeting the problems as they come up, receiving them with an open mind, and when called upon for decisions, to make them for the best interests of all concerned.

"Also to those who known or unknown to me may have worked for the success of my election, I desire to convey my thanks for their efforts on my behalf."

WM. H. STEVENSON CALLED BY DEATH

William H. Stevenson, 73, retired rancher who had lived in this city for the past 23 years, died at his home, 401 West Sixth street, today following an illness of several years' duration. He was born in Allegheny, Pennsylvania.

He was the husband of Edna E. Stevenson; father of W. M. Stevenson, of Santa Ana, and Dr. S. L. Stevenson, of San Francisco, and brother of Mrs. D. F. Cook, of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Ida A. Campbell, of Idaho, Kansas.

Funeral services will be announced later by the Smith and Tutthill Funeral home.

POPE PLANNING TO ISSUE PEACE EDICT

VATICAN CITY, April 11.—(UP)—Pope Pius intends to make public a peace message to the world in connection with the Lourdes festival April 26, 27 and 28. It was understood today.

He was expected to write a letter to be read at the festival by Cardinal Pacelli, papal legate, in connection with the end of the Roman Catholic Holy year.

The letter would replace the encyclical on peace which the Pope intended to issue Easter Sunday, but would have the same importance.

It was understood the letter would emphasize the necessity for maintaining peace. The Pope was expected to say that another war, which probably would involve a large part of the world, would mean great suffering for most of mankind and would disrupt the entire mechanism of civilization.

LOUISE CAMPBELL WINS $50 PRIZE

Louise E. Campbell, 325 Eighth street, Garden Grove, has been announced as one of the winners of the MacMillan Petroleum company's daily prize contest for April. The MacMillan company is awarding a prize of $50 daily, except Sunday, to persons submitting a 45-word article on why they like MacMillan products, and the Campbell essay was judged the April 3 winner, according to John R. Anderson of the MacMillan distributors of Santa Ana. The judging was made through the Los Angeles office.

Invite Families To Evangelistic Service Tonight

The deadly results of sin were pictured in comparison to the fruits of a life of righteousness, when Bishop L. D. Warner, of the United Brethren church, addressed a joint meeting of the United Brethren and Evangelical churches at the former church last night.

The entire center section of the church was filled with men, who were special guests of the meeting last night. Tonight has been designated as family night, with families expected to attend as a group and be seated together. A large attendance is expected.

At the close of last night's sermon appeal, three young people accepted church membership. It was reported.

Local Briefs

Frank C. Townsley, of 632 North Birch street, who recently underwent a major surgical operation at the Orange County hospital, is reported recovering satisfactorily.

W. B. Moore, district agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, of 2004 North Greenleaf street, has started work on a new eight room English type house on his ranch at Tustin and McFadden streets. Ball and Honer have the contract and the Moores expect to move into their new home in June.

Sister Nolan, of San Diego, evangelist, and Elder Andrew Swartzel, pastor, are conducting revival meetings nightly at the Apostolic Faith Mission, 1291 West Second street. Healing services are held every Thursday evening.

H. V. Adams, of the Security-First National Bank, Los Angeles, will be the speaker at tonight's dinner of the Orange County Life Underwriters Association, scheduled at 8:30 p. m. in James cafe.

Santa Ana George E. Fairies, vice president of the association, is in charge of the dinner program. Adams will discuss the subject: "Have We Americans Been Too Thirsty?"

Mrs. Bertha Lee, 443 South Pixley street, Santa Ana, was slightly injured yesterday when her car crashed into the machine of R. L. Blanchard of West Orange while it was parked at 2014 South Main street, according to report of the accident filed with the police department.

FAMOUS EDITOR IS SUED FOR $100,000

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—(UP)—Dr. Morris Fishbein, farm editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, was named defendant today in a $100,000 damages suit filed by Dr. Painless Parker, a dentist with offices in many Pacific Coast cities.

The suit was based on remarks allegedly made by the visiting editor during an address at the State Dental association meeting in Oakland this week.

According to Dr. Parker's complaint, Dr. Fishbein held the Pacific coast practitioners to "public ridicule" and intimidated them by "professional skill and integrity." It also was charged the speaker had made false statements about advertising dentists in general.

SCRIPPS CHILDREN REPORTED IMPROVED

HONOLULU, T. H., April 11.—(UP)—Improvement in the condition of two young American girls injured seriously in an automobile accident Tuesday was reported today by physicians at Queen's hospital.

The girls, Margaret Scripps, 14, and Nancy Scripps, 11, daughters of Robert P. Scripps, Scripps Howard newspaper executive, were said to have spent a "comfortable night." Both appeared improved slightly, hospital attendants said, although neither was regarded as completely out of danger.

The girls were injured when the automobile in which they were riding with Dorothy Ann Cremer, 15-year-old daughter of R. T. Cremer, of San Diego, their chauffeur and their governess, plunged over an embankment on Pal highway.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY WOMAN'S FORUM

FULLERTON, April 10.—All officers of the Woman's Forum of the Fullerton Presbyterian church were re-elected Tuesday at the annual meeting, including Mrs. Harry Craddock, president, Mrs. L. W. Davy, secretary, Mrs. Karl Parks, vice president, and Mrs. A. W. Trott, treasurer. The board of regents as elected are Mrs. C. W. Trotter, Mrs. Guy Church, Mrs. C. M. Youngs, Mrs. Adolph Koch and Mrs. Lyman School.

A May breakfast at the church was planned. Mrs. Guy Church was appointed chairman of the committee. Flo Scarrett, of Orange, brought the talk of the afternoon, and chose as her subject, "The Worm Has Turned," as she told of the advance of woman, and expressed the hope the time will come when men and women will be considered equal in all of life's activities.

A group of students from Fullerton Union High school provided musical numbers.

Bell Dry Goods Store Presents Music and Models

In cooperation with the program of the retail merchants of Santa Ana in staging hospitality night tonight, the Bell Dry Goods company announced that a program of instrumental numbers by the Edward Burns trio will be presented tonight in the store.

The trio is well known in Orange county, and music lovers will be able to hear their music from 7:30 until 9 p. m., it was announced. Another feature of the Bell store participation will be attractive models that will be on hand to show the newest and best in Easter apparel.

J. H. Bell, proprietor of the store, said that the response to the efforts of the retail division of the chamber of commerce has been very gratifying and it is expected that all stores participating will have a record-breaking number of visitors.

SPEAKERS TIED FOR HONORS IN CONTEST

With a tie for first place in last night's speaking contest at the Toastmasters' club, both W. J. Ferris and Dr. C. J. Rulley will have their names engraved as joint winners on the club trophy. The occasion was the regular competition which is staged by the club every four months, in which speakers with high ratings have an opportunity to fix their standings.

Ferris spoke on "Whirling Worlds," picturing in graphic manner the contrast between the orderly arrangement of the heavenly bodies with the chaotic conditions existing on earth. Dr. Rulley gave an amusing discussion on "The Sin of Overeating." Others on the program were D. T. Tabbals, on "Pots and Kettles," Arthur Woodworth on "Inertia," and R. C. Smedley, on "Worse Than War."

Nelson Visel acted as toastmaster for the evening, and A. G. Green was the general critic.

EIGHT COMMUNISTS GIVEN SENTENCES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 11.—(UP)—Eight communists convicted here recently of violating the state criminal syndicalism act were under sentence today to one to four years imprisonment each.

The prison terms were ordered by Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon at the conclusion of arguments for a new trial, which he denied. The judge said he would decide later whether the group will be released on bail pending their appeal to the supreme court.

Those sentenced were Nora Conklin, Lorine Norman, Caroline Decker, Jack Crane, Martin Wilson, Albert Hougharty, Pat Chambers and Norman Mini.

Judge Lemmon also imposed a fine of $50 on Leo Gallagher, chief defense counsel in the case, who was cited for contempt during the trial. Gallagher was given ten days in which to pay or start serving the alternative 25-day jail sentence.

GROUP HEARS TRAVELOGUE

ANAHEIM, April 11.—Members of the Home and Foreign Missionary department of the First Presbyterian church heard Mrs. Mary P. Foreman give a travel talk when the group met today. Mrs. Foreman talked of her recent trip to China.

The meeting opened at 10 a. m. this morning, with Mrs. Louise Chethum conducting prayer service. During the morning the Home society held a special birthday celebration, followed by a box lunch.

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 11.—(UP)—An incident which started as a committee episode and developed into a lobbying furore has threatened to explode a bombshell in the midst of lobbyists whose activities have always been an integral part of the legislative sessions.

Senate and assembly leaders have been hard put to restrain hot-headed members from precipitating a general and perhaps devastating investigation into the pursuits of all lobbyists as a result of charges hurled at Nathan J. Elliott, manager of a trucking association.

Elliott was accused of having boasted he controlled the Southern California assembly delegation and could swing any bill for $25,000.

The entire affair may be traced back to a senate committee hearing on what appeared to be an innocent bill providing for railroad commission supervision over trucking lines. During this hearing, the charges against Elliott were aired. It was said he opposed the bill because proponents had refused to pay him $25,000 to support it.

Senate leaders wished to confine the argument to committee. They were a bit perturbed, therefore, when the clerk received, the following day, resolutions calling for investigation of lobbying.

From there on, interesting backstage developments arose. According to information from reliable sources, Lieut. Gov. George J. Hatfield, president of the senate, called President Pro-Tem W. F. Rich, Marysville, and said, in effect: "This thing is getting out of hand; you'd better introduce a resolution to investigate the Elliott matter alone."

This Rich did, and he argued that the senate had neither the time nor money to attempt a sweeping investigation of all lobbyists. The Rich resolution was passed through, and Hatfield immediately appointed the author, Senator Ralph E. Swing and Senator Walter McGovern (who had introduced a broader resolution) to serve on the investigating committee.

During the questioning of witnesses who had accused Elliott, McGovern at one point began firing questions along this line: "Who do you represent? What are you doing here? What are you lobbying for?"

Rich stopped him with: "Wait a minute—we're going afield." There was no desire on the part of many legislators to probe too deeply into lobbying generally.

Even Governor Merriam pointed out that lobbying was an important part of the legislature, but should be condemned when it went beyond the lines of legitimacy.

But some of the young bloods who see in lobbyists only persistent persons who stop them in the corridors, invite them to parties and attempt to persuade them to support certain measures, tried to push the general investigation idea.

Heated debate followed a recommendation in the lower house that lobbyists be excluded from the floor. The measure was defeated.

Committee members admitted nothing could be done about Elliott. There was no bribery involved, since he received no money. Elliott said the sole purpose of the investigation was to build up support behind what he termed a "railroad-chamber of commerce bill" to place trucking in the hands of the state railroad commission "which is controlled by the railroads."

He believed the hearing gave him so much publicity that it was invaluable to him.

One thing was certain — it brought the truck bill out of the pile of "minor measures" and made it one of the most talked-about proposals before the legislature.

Fishing interests which sought legislation to control the activities of floating sardine reduction plants found little support in the assembly. The two leading opponents of the bill were Assemblymen William Hornblower and Charles W. Lyon, San Francisco and Los Angeles lawyers, who, according to some proponents, probably "never saw a sardine before it was packed in a can."

And motion picture interests have been unable to frighten legislators with threats of leaving "nerts" are the two most popular California. "Let 'em leave" and legislative answers to the threats.

The automobile industry consumed approximately 2500 tons more of tin during the first half of the current year than it did during the corresponding period of 1933.

BORING WITHIN

The few really important new deal big-wigs discovered on their desks the other day a privately printed book elegantly prepared and bound with glazed blue leather. It contained a plan which apparently was being submitted in confidence.

Plans have been jumping out of envelopes here for years. Occasionally they have been as thick as the particles in a dust storm. This one was different. You could discern that the minute you lifted the glazed leather cover, carrying the gold embossed title: "Recovery of Realism."

There, on the first two pages, were endorsements quoted from one of the president's most influential advisers in good standing. The only party named as author was the unidentified "Committee for Economic Recovery," but the book was accompanied by a letter from Allie S. Freed, of New York, who said he would call later and explain.

Mr. Freed is the man who arranged the dinner between business men and New Dealers several months ago when Liaison committees were established. He speaks generally as a friend and authority of the new deal.

This is why some gasped when they noted that his plan counseled Mr. Roosevelt to change the middle-of-the-road course at once; fight the radicals (naming Townsend, Long, Coughlin and Upton Sinclair); promote the durable goods industries; amend the securities act; discount real estate mortgages; in short, save the country from an inevitable radical crisis by a swing to the right.

ADVICE

Obviously the book was prepared on the assumption that its deductions would not be publicly circulated, because it speaks more boldly than friends of the New Deal ordinarily do. It says, for instance, that "We must make real headway toward substantial recovery or expect radicalism by 1936." It refers to Father Coughlin as a demagogue who is able to delude 5,000,000 people; Dr. Townsend as an impractical dreamer; Upton Sinclair as a dangerous radical and Huey Long as the Hitler of Louisiana's return to the dark ages.

"There is only one real cure for this type of radicalism," the book continues. "It lies solely in economic recovery."

"We should put full steam toward recovery and relegate everything else to a position of secondary importance. Thinking people should be made to realize that the nation is facing a very serious crisis and that our hope lies in the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"If an individual like Townsend must be taken seriously at this time anything is possible a year from today if economic recovery shall not have been obtained."

Election charts based on returns of 1928 and 1932 are carried in the book to prove that the radicals may defeat the president and cause the election of a minority Republican administration.

PROGRAM

To thwart this, the first phase of the program advises four steps:

1. "Economic recovery must be made the paramount issue."

2. "A definite program of counter-action should be studied and planned mainly by men outside the government. This must include leaders from all walks of life."

3. "Newspaper editors and radio broadcasting stations should be educated in order that they may understand the damage threatened by demagogues. . . . We should be careful not to interfere with free speech. . . . We should, however, prevent the quotation of statistics which are without proper basis, and of willful mis-statements of fact."

4. "Important members of both liberal and conservative groups should be brought to the realization that, while they debate their own beliefs, unprincipled radicals are conspiring to destroy the nation."

PLAN

The economic plan accompanying the program is detailed and extensive. There are fifty pages of charts (the book has ninety-six pages in all) showing how "Eight million people can be re-employed beginning June 1 at a rate of one million a month."

Most of the unemployment is in durable goods and the service industries. The deferred demand for products of each of these industries is carefully calculated, and totals $49,275,000,000.

The deferred demand as estimated for several of the major industries is: autos (deficiency for 3 years) $4,000,000,000; home building (10 years) $20,000,000,000; industrial plant obsolescence (5 years) $5,000,000,000; electrical energy (10 years) $4,500,000,000; electrical equipment (5 years) $2,500,000,000; grade crossings, highways, municipal sewage $6,400,000,000.

Apparently, this deferred demand was calculated by estimating what the consumers have not bought since 1929, is based on what they were buying before.

CORRECTIONS

The book wants the president to remove the "excessive liability" feature of the securities exchange act. It holds that the law needs other minor corrections which are holding back new financing. It counsels improved facilities for installment sales, opening of the mortgage markets on a long term base, reorganization of the real estate mortgage structure.

Concluding, it says: "We strongly recommend that the business managers of the nation who are now temporarily in the discard, in the consideration of the basic problems of recovery, be drafted in this war for recovery."

PROSPECTS

These are the things which other friends of the president have recently been discussing among themselves. The logic of some of the argument and some of the plans is accepted in formidable New Deal quarters, where a mild change of view lately has been noticeable. It is not inconceivable that a considerable number of the suggestions ultimately will be embraced.

At least Mr. Freed will be received with sympathy by some officials when he calls around to explain.

NEW YORK

By James McMullen

VULNERABLE

Now that Wendell Willkie has broken the ice, a number of other people are coming up with formulas for utility regulation designed to supplant the Wheeler-Rayburn bill. H. H. Porter of American Waterworks and Henry I. Harriman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce have presented their programs, and there are others to follow. A number of power leaders would have preferred to see Willkie's plan stand as the only offering from private industry's side. They fear a multiplicity of ideas will only confuse Congress and give the original bill a better chance of passage.

As for Henry Harriman—some of the insiders feel that they could cheerfully wring his neck. It was bad enough to have the head of a leading conservative business organization suggest that holding companies in future be limited to one or two operating systems. It was very much worse to have him add the qualification that the properties they were allowed to retain should be geographically integrated.

What a help that was to the men who have been trying to prove that geographical concentration is beside the point! The avowed reason for spreading utility empires all over the map was distribution of risk—minimizing the effect of bad conditions in a particular region. There's a more cogent reason behind the scenes. Integrated systems are more vulnerable to political attack—state legislatures can gang up on them effectively.

BRAKE

Financial insiders aren't as alarmed as you might think about the Patman bonus bill—even if it should slip past a veto. They talk of the record about "ruinous inflation" in the wake of two billion dollars new currency—but actually they doubt that it will have any inflationary effect except a briefly psychological one.

New York authorities agree with Federal Reserve Governor Eccles that potential inflation could easily be kept under control by the simple expedient of lifting reserve requirements for Federal Reserve member banks—thus sterilizing enough credit to offset the addition to the currency.

It's pointed out that the power to change reserves required against deposits gives the government—through the Federal Reserve—a potent brake to check almost any kind of inflation. Of course there's no need for a brake at present—but it might come in handy when business starts picking up in earnest or if Congress should put over fancy monetary ideas.

RACKET

Industrial conservatives are gleeful about disclosures that two New York "white collar" unions have pursued the novel recruiting method of holding up employers for the closed shop and the check-off without even consulting the employees who suddenly find themselves union members. They picket stores where not a soul is on strike if they don't get their way, and there's evidence that they're not above using rough stuff on occasion.

The workers enrolled without their consent get no visible benefit, but the union treasurers flourish. Many merchants have found it saves wear and tear on nerves and pocketbooks to give in without an argument.

The situation is a sweet break for those who are anxious to discredit the Federation of Labor. Unless Bill Green does something soon to disavow the alleged racketeers the country will be deluged with publicity citing these tactics as officially condoned by organized labor.

APPLES

Great Britain's political goulash is gradually coming to a boil. Rising popular discontent is augmented by an absence of harmony in the Cabinet.

Foreign Minister Sir John Simon isn't as cordially liked by his colleagues as he might be. Well-posted New York sources learn that several high officials wish he would take his talents elsewhere.

A move to get his resignation was blocked some months ago by Sir John himself. He privately announced that if he were forced out he would take the Liberal party with him. He was in a position to make good on the threat—which would have wrecked the National Government—so he was allowed to retain his post. But his recent flop in Berlin, as contrasted with Sir Anthony Eden's success in Moscow, has heightened the tension.

Informed observers unanimously agree that a political overturn is on the way. A number of them predict a general election within six months or less. When that comes, the Labor Party will be in a swell position to pick up the apples. The London municipal election proved that it was vastly more proficient at "getting out the vote" than its older rivals.

PARALYSIS

John J. Pelley's latest blast at Railroad Coordinator Joe Eastman—demanding the latter's removal as a prerequisite to railroad recovery—was sharply criticized by a number of New York rail leaders.

"Anyone who's been in Washington five minutes ought to know that the roads will have to work in double harness with Eastman if they hope to make any progress at all. Pelley's been there off and on for months and hasn't discovered it yet. Sometimes it seems that being in the railroad business conduces to some kind of mental paralysis."

STYMIED

The Mead airmail bill has the airlines wandering in circles. A distinguished New York legal firm—representing one of the big lines—examined it carefully and reported back to its client that the most careful study failed to disclose the probable effects of the legislation. It isn't often that lawyers confess themselves stymied so completely.

SIDELIGHTS

More recruits for Joe Kennedy's big parade. . . Bethlehem Steel and American Rolling Mills are planning refunding issues. . . Steel production—now 45 per cent of capacity—is expected to drop to 35 per cent by July 1. . . The Japanese have quit buying scrap steel—at least temporarily. . . This confirms the fading of Far Eastern war clouds.

Check The Assets of An Exchange Membership

THE many activities of the California Fruit Growers Exchange are conducted for one purpose only: to assure its member-growers of maximum net returns.

Starting with the few services essential to the bare operation of a marketing organization, the Exchange has steadily added others as the need has arisen.

Most Exchange services add to net returns by increasing the price received for its members' crops. In other cases the same result is obtained by lowering the costs of production and marketing.

The Exchange takes no profit on any of these services. Cost of all Exchange services compares favorably with the marketing charge alone of any other agency.

Check, here, this brief list of the assets of Exchange membership. The manager of any Exchange association or district exchange will be glad to discuss them fully with you.

1	SALES ORGANIZATION. 57 offices. Every salesman an expert working solely for the Sunkist growers.
2	MARKET NEWS SERVICE. Teletype and telegraph give continuous price-and-shipment facts.
3	LARGE VOLUME permits taking advantage of market situations to members' benefit; also flexibility under pro-rate programs.
4	REPUTATION for quality fruit and fair dealing holds trade preference.
5	ADVERTISING increases this preference and expands the market year by year.
6	DEALER SERVICE gives Sunkist personal contacts with the best retail outlets.
7	NEW OUTLETS built here and abroad. Juice market developed with aid of extractors.
8	BY-PRODUCTS PLANTS convert unsalable and surplus fruit into added returns instead of dumping them at added costs.
9	SUPPLY COMPANY assembles needed materials on time, often at considerable savings.
10	FIELD DEPARTMENT guards standards of grade and pack and aids in all fruit handling problems.
11	PEST CONTROL BUREAU assists growers at all times, reports on latest methods.
12	TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT collects claims without charge, acts in rate adjustment cases.
13	LEGAL DEPARTMENT protects members' interests in legislative and tariff matters.
14	GROUP INSURANCE cuts premium costs on fire and workmen's compensation policies.
15	GROWER OWNERSHIP means that every dollar above costs is returned to growers.

What do you mean, three years from seed bed to cigarettes . . .

I mean simply this—it actually takes about three years to make a Chesterfield cigarette.

It all starts with these little plants, called tobacco seedlings. They are grown under cover and transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

Then the warm Southern sunshine begins to get in its good work and as the plants grow and ripen the mild ripe leaves are cut and sent to the curing barns. The farmer then takes his tobacco to the auction warehouse where it is sold to the highest bidder. All of this takes about a year.

The tobaccos for Chesterfield cigarettes are then stored away for two years or more to make them milder and taste better.

It all takes time—just about three years—but there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco in making a good cigarette. That's the reason smokers—men and women—say that Chesterfields are milder and that Chesterfields taste better.

Tobacco seedlings are transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

For two years or more the mild ripe Chesterfield tobaccos are stored in wooden hogheads to age.

Machines like this—new and modern in every respect—make Chesterfields.

County Scouts To Take Part In National Jamboree

PLAN TO SEND LOCAL SCOUTS TO WASHINGTON

At least 15 Orange county Boy Scouts are sure of a trip to Washington, D. C. In August to take part in the Boy Scouts National Jamboree, it was learned today from Harrison E. White, Orange county Scout executive.

White announced details of a new plan for selecting Scouts who will represent Orange county in the national Scouting event today.

Troops which will send Scouts will select their own representatives, who must be first class Scouts, must be in good physical condition, although there are no age restrictions.

The trip to Washington, D. C. inclusive of all expenses, will cost each Scout $125. This cost will be defrayed in a manner to be worked out by each troop which will send Scouts, although in some cases it will be permissible for parents of the Scouts to help out.

Special trains will be sent to Washington by both the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railway companies, White said. Many points of interest will be visited to and from Washington, including many historical spots in the nation.

Further details of the plan to send county Scouts to the big national event will be announced later by Executive White.

Co-Author Of Book Is Santa Anan

S. Smith, Griswold, graduate of Santa Ana Junior college and Stanford university, recently had published the first volume of which he is co-author, "The Book of the States," distributed by the American Legislative association, of which Griswold is a research assistant.

After graduation from Santa Ana Junior college, Griswold attended Stanford, taking a bachelor's and master's degree in the department of political science. Work he did in connection with civic projects in Los Angeles and San Francisco won him the position he now holds, which has its headquarters at the University of Chicago.

"The Book of the States" is to be an annual publication put out by this association, and will contain information of a political nature. It will be distributed among various law-making bodies throughout the country, and will be placed in college libraries. McKee Fisk, Santa Ana Jaycee dean, received one of the first copies of the book, which was presented him by the author.

The organization with which Griswold is employed publishes a monthly magazine, "State Government," of which he is a contributing editor. He has been a member of three honorary nation-wide political science fraternities, including Phi Sigma Alpha, Phi Delta Kappa and Alpha Sigma Phi.

MAX REINHAUS RECALLS EARLY DAYS OF CITY

Recollections of MAX Reinhaus, 80-year old pioneer merchant who has watched the growth of Santa Ana and vicinity since 1875, are contained in an interesting article prepared by historical research workers of the Orange County SERRA, as one of the first of a series of features dealing with the early days of Santa Ana.

Born December 2, 1854, in Germany, Reinhaus came to America as a boy of 19. He spent a year in New York before coming west to Los Angeles, where he secured employment as a clerk with a firm of Russian Jews who conducted a dry goods and clothing store. Most of their customers were Spaniards, and it was during his work in Los Angeles that Reinhaus became acquainted with many of the prominent people of the state, including Governor Pio Pico, the Yorbans and Lugos.

In October of 1875, Max Reinhaus came to Santa Ana with his brothers, Julius and Gustavus. All three went to work for Goldmacher, who ran a large merchandising establishment between Third and Fourth streets on Broadway. At that time, the present site of the First National bank was occupied by Titchener's home, which was surrounded by a picket fence and a large cabbage patch. On an opposite corner was the Santa Ana hotel, which was later moved to Fruit street and remodeled into an apartment house. The Summerfields and Spurgeons also had stores, Hickey's livery stable and several saloons completed the business section of the city.

In 1888, the Reinhaus brothers started in business for themselves, with a store at the southeast corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets. They were successful from the start, and in 1900 were forced to move into a larger building at Fourth and Blue, where they remained until retiring in 1923.

The Reinhaus customers would bring in their crops, usually corn, to settle accounts in the fall. In 1884, the year of the flood, Reinhaus recalls that his customers manufactured an unusual amount of honey, and that it was necessary for him to send to San Francisco for a cargo of kerosene cans, which were cleaned with benzine and made ideal containers.

The Santa Ana pioneer recalls the first cemetery was located at about Eighth and Ross streets, and although few people were buried there, the city was forced to call upon the state legislature for permission to move the cemetery.

Julius Reinhaus owned the first gasoline auto in Orange county. In traveling to Irvine park, his passengers would have to push the car up the grades. On a trip to Anaheim, the road had been freshly sprinkled with oil, and as the car did not have fenders, the clothing of the passengers was ruined.

Most everyone owned an artesian well. Max Reinhaus' well was located at Fourth and Garvey streets and was bored to a depth of 100 feet.

The Reinhaus brothers took an active part in civic affairs. Max Reinhaus joined the Santa Ana Masonic Lodge No. 241 in 1932. His application was signed by C. W. Humphrey, real estate dealer and justice of the peace. Reinhaus was elected treasurer of the lodge and served in that capacity for 35 consecutive years.

Reinhaus married Martha Straus of San Francisco in 1879. Their children—Irma, Helen and Stanley—graduated from Santa Ana High school. Stanley attended the University of California at Berkeley, and was admitted to the bar. He is at present one of the 15 governors of the California bar association.

Jaysee To Be Host At Convention

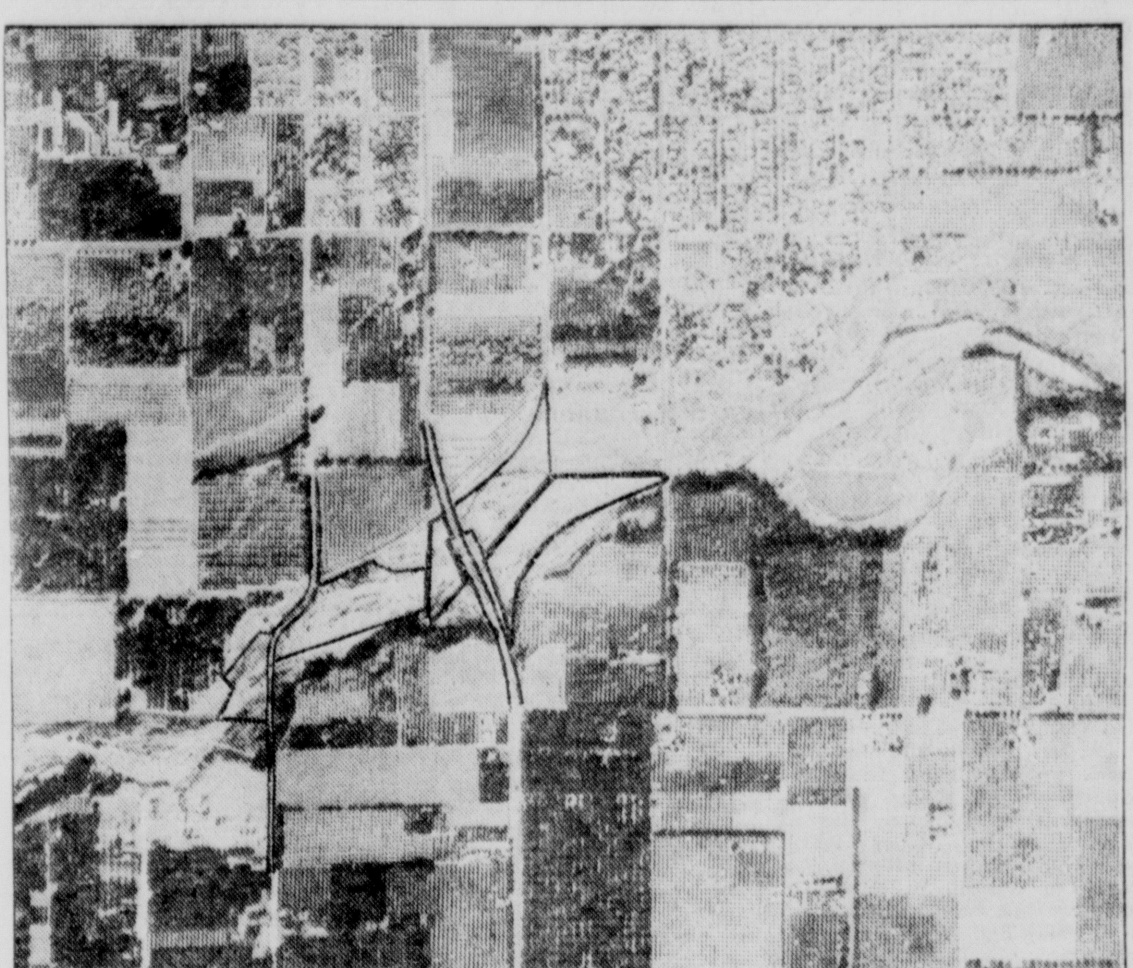

With 15 California junior college chapters of Alpha Gamma Sigma, nation-wide junior college honor society, represented, the Santa Ana Junior college chapter of the honor club will entertain visitors April 13 on the college campus when the organization holds its annual convention in Santa Ana.

Jaysees to be represented will be Chaffey, Pasadena, Glendale, San Bernardino, Fullerton, Santa Rosa, Citrus, Long Beach, Santa Maria, Pomona, Kern county, Taft, Compton, Modesto, and Coalinga Extension center in Fresno.

After the morning program featuring Santa Ana J. C. entertainers, a luncheon will be held for the delegates in the Ebell clubhouse, followed by a dance in the Y. M. C. A. lobby and patio. Students appearing on the morning program for the convalesce are Miss Agnes De Busk and Cleo Smith, soloists; Everard Stovall, pianist, and Philip Hood, flutist.

Miss Lella B. Watson, Jaysee foreign language department head, is advisor of the Santa Ana chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma.

PLAN TO HOLD AVOCADO FIELD DAY APRIL 19

This year the annual avocado growers field day and farm practice tour for avocado growers will be held in La Habra valley, it was announced today by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. The event will take place on Friday, April 19. In previous years the tour has taken the growers to avocado districts in San Diego and Santa Barbara counties.

The local committee on arrangements for the tour, assisting the farm advisor, include R. F. Frantz, chairman, La Habra; A. C. Pickering, Yorba Linda; Wendell Hill, Santa Ana; H. H. Gardner, Orange; A. G. Finley, Tustin, and James Tuffrey, Placentia.

The purpose of the field day is to visit typical avocado plantings where improved orchard and tree practices may be demonstrated and discussed by specialists. Stops will be made at orchards where pruning methods, irrigation, pest control and regular bearing habits may be observed and studied.

According to the announcement, the tour will start at the Ross Hodson orchard, corner Palm and Central avenues, about two miles east of La Habra, at 1:30 p. m. At this stop, avocado pruning methods will be demonstrated. The P. J. Weiss orchard will also be visited to see comparative production plots under observation of the Experiment Station; also fertilizer plots. Other orchards will be included in the tour.

Work on SERRA Projects to Develop Parks Along Creek Progresses

Development work on the big SERRA project along Santiago creek, designed to create attractive parkways and to prevent floods, has been progressing rapidly with an average of 400 men employed on the county of Orange, Santa Ana and Orange projects, it was learned today from Dan Mulhiron, construction superintendent of SERRA.

The combined project is one of the biggest and most desirable in the county. For the project SERRA has allocated a total of $137,824. When the first projects are completed, it is anticipated that other projects will be submitted. Mulhiron estimated that $150,000, besides the amount already set aside, will be spent in the development work.

The Orange city park unit was the first to be launched and considerable work was done under CWA before the advent of SERRA. The Orange project now is 47 per cent completed. SERRA so far has spent $27,700 on the Orange park, while the city has spent about $5000.

Work was started on the Santa Ana unit, which goes from Main street to Santiago creek, on January 25. This project is 33 per cent completed. So far SERRA has spent $14,868 on the Santa Ana unit and the city has spent $4476.

The county part of the combined project, which includes the land and creek bed between Glassell street in Orange and Santiago street in Santa Ana, is now 46 per cent completed. So far SERRA has spent $29,846 on this unit, while the county has spent $3280.

The crew of 400 men has been employed on grading, filling in, defining the creek channel, rock the walls and other work. Cementing of the creek walls will start soon.

SCHOOL CRAFT AND ART WORK IS DISPLAYED

The current exhibit of Santa Ana school work sponsored by the City Teachers League, at Fourth and Broadway, is devoted to a display of art and craft, stagecraft and interior decoration, arranged by Miss Hazel Nell Bemus, high school art instructor.

The exhibit shows examples in the successive steps in instruction: beginning art, all-over patterns, perspective and free painting, of which Miss Bemus is instructor; also design, free painting and pastel, taught by Frances W. Eger; interior decoration, taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas.

Showcraft—brush, cartooning—a new course this year, modeled after the given by Walt Disney for his men in animated cartoon work; perfect technique, studies of animals and figures in pencil, form a part of the display. Studies from life, two of which are on display, are part of the course, one animal and one human figure being required from each member of the class, and appearing in weekly strips. Miss Bemus is the instructor.

Miss Bemus' classes in stagecraft have contributed to the exhibit. This department covers the study of puppets, the aims and methods used in theater with stage production. Practical work done includes sets made and plays managed by stage crews for such production as "Cinderella," by the Peter Pan Players; "All Haba," "Thanksgiving Play," "Christmas Play" and "Queen of Hearts," by the same players; "Growing Pains," by the high school.

This department now is working upon "New Moon," junior college opera; "Fountain of Youth," by Peter Pan Players; "Smiling Through," junior college drama, and "His Heated Husband," a high school play.

Mrs. Thomas' craft students are showing examples of their work in leather, pottery, block prints and cardboard construction.

The arts and crafts department this year has an enrollment of 368, an increase of 74 per cent over the 212 enrollment last year. A cartooning class of 20 members and a stagecraft class of 24 are new to the department this year. Classes in art have been increased from a maximum of 24 to a maximum of 35, to accommodate the increased enrollment.

PEACE PROSPECTS TOPIC FOR TALK

"Prospects for Peace" is the title of the address to be given by Dr. George A. Warner of the First Methodist Church of Santa Ana, when he speaks before Santa Ana Junior College students at an assembly tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the First Baptist church.

In this talk Dr. Warner will comment on activities of the Student league; its strike, and other phases of the organization.

Complete Repair Work On Outfall Line This Week

NEWPORT BEACH, April 11.—Repair work on the outfall sewer of the Orange County Sanitary district will be completed this week, following two weeks of labor in 30 feet of water. The work was necessitated when sand under the pipe line shifted under the impact of unusually heavy rip tides and allowed the pipes to sag and spring their seams.

The work of repairing the lines has been unusually hazardous, and has been done by Morris Gardner, deep sea diver for Smith Brothers' Boat works. The split seams were more than 1000 feet from shore, where the line extends into the ocean just west of the mouth of the Santa Ana river. The end of the 48-inch pipe is located 3000 feet at sea.

SANTA ANANS IN CENTER OF STORM OF DUST

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul and Mr. and Mrs. James Liebig, of Santa Ana, have returned to this city after a trip to New Mexico, during which trip they received first-hand information and experience on the dust storms which have been raising havoc in the Middle West.

The party encountered the dust storm after visiting the Carlsbad Cavern. The storm was between Carlsbad and Roswell, New Mexico.

For 24 hours the Santa Anans were in the center of the dust storm. During part of the time the wind blew strongly, whipping the dust around in swirling clouds.

When the wind subsided the party reported, it would seem like a heavy fog hung over the land in a dead calm. The dust was extremely irritating to the lungs, eyes and ears, and it was impossible to see more than 100 feet while riding in the automobile. Lights of other cars could be seen only when closer than 100 feet.

Members of the party reported that the top soil of the ground was moving and that the dust piled so high in the roads it was necessary to employ tractors and scrapers to clear the roads. The dust was several feet deep on the roads.

Missionary Will Speak On China

MIDWAY CITY, April 11.—A special service is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening for the Midway City Nazarene church, with O. P. Deale, for 15 years a missionary to China, as the speaker. Mr. Deale, besides telling of the mission work in China, will present stereopticon views, and Mrs. Deale and their two sons will be featured on the evening's program, singing in the Chinese language. The public is invited to attend the service and that of the morning, at which time a sermon, appropriate to Palm Sunday, will be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. J. A. Wootton.

TOWNSEND CLUBS

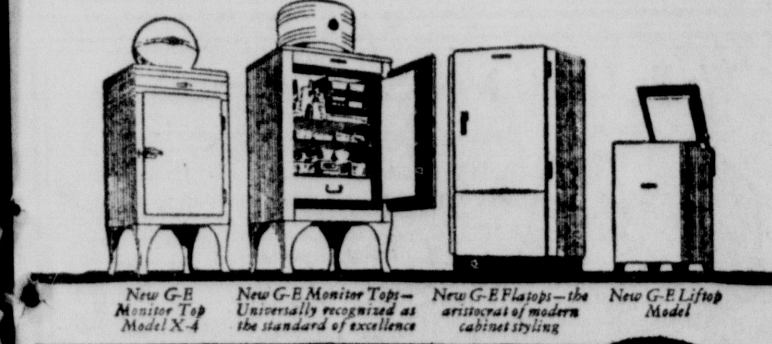

An open meeting with round table discussion is planned for Friday evening by the Westminster Townsend club at Presbyterian church hall. The Rev. Rex Barr, Long Beach radio speaker, is scheduled to speak April 19. On April 26 the Santa Ana club will be in charge of the program, and a pot luck supper is scheduled for that evening.

PUPILS PLAN DINNER

PLACENTIA, April 11.—Teachers and parents of the Baker Street P. T. A. are planning a May dinner at the school, according to announcements made following a recent P. T. A. meeting. Complete plans will be announced later. Mrs. Bessie Twombly said.

German Classes Meet For Reorganization Of Club

Reorganization of Deutsche Verein club took place Tuesday night when members of two German classes of adult education department met in the home of Mrs. Katherine Schmiedberg, 1202 North Van Ness avenue.

Officers elected were Mrs. F. C. Buchtel, president; Mrs. Katherine Schmiedberg, vice president; Mrs. Paul Witmer, secretary; Tage O. Carlson, treasurer.

Hostesses at the affair were Mrs. Schmiedberg, Mrs. Buchtel and Mrs. Helen Christianson, teacher of the groups. The latter announced that classes will be dispensed with April 16 and 17 because of spring vacation. Weekly meetings will be resumed the following week, with beginning students meeting Monday, April 22, at 7 p. m., and advanced students, Tuesday, April 23, at the same hour, both at Willard Junior High school. Both groups are open for enrollment.

German games were played, and folk songs were sung, with Mrs. Don Mozley at the piano.

Refreshments were served by the three hostesses, Mrs. Schmiedberg, Mrs. Buchtel and Mrs. Christianson. Others present were Mrs. Paul Witmer, Tage O. Carlson, Ernest Peterson, Mrs. E. Houghton, Mrs. C. Stinson, Mrs. M. Heamiller, Mrs. Caroline Opp, Leo Schmiedberg, Mrs. B. Beck, Miss Hilda Dahlgren, Mrs. Don Mozley, Miss Agnes Lieberman, Mrs. F. H. Sparks, Miss Gretchen Lieberman.

Los Angeles Librarian Addresses County Association

Discussing "The Value of Good Literature for Children," Miss Rosemary Lively of Los Angeles City library, was speaker Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Orange County Kindergarten Primary Association held in Garden Grove Washington school.

Essential qualities to be considered in selecting reading material for children were given as interest, vocabulary, illustrations and element of humor. Miss Lively presented a list of books suitable for children, displaying some late editions. She closed her talk with a review of "The Small Who Ran" (Lathrop).

The program was opened with numbers played by Garden Grove Hoover school Rhythm Band. Alice Imamoto, talented child musician, played two piano solos.

Tea was served preceding the meeting, with primary teachers of Garden Grove assisted by Mrs. Dora Pankey Glines in hostess duties.

Hostess Trio Presides At Meeting Of Child Study Group

Welcomed last night to the R. Carson Smith home, 1115 West Washington avenue, by three hostesses, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Milo K. Tedstrom and Mrs. R. M. Conklin, members of Child Study section of Junior Ebell society, spent a pleasant evening.

Holly Lash Visel (Mrs. Nelson Visel) was introduced as speaker, and gave a most interesting talk on "Child Development Through Drama and Dance." This was followed by a business session conducted by Mrs. R. C. Harris, leader, during which it was decided to limit section membership to 30. Also a member absent from three consecutive meetings without sufficient reason, will be automatically dropped from the list.

Election of officers resulted in the choice of Mrs. Aubrey Glines to succeed Mrs. Harris as leader, and Mrs. Tedstrom for the post of secretary-treasurer.

Plans were made for a social evening on May 8 when husbands of section members will be complimented at a dinner and bridge party to be held in the Balboa Island home of the Thoburn Whites. As the final feature of the evening, the hostesses served ice and home-made cookies, using daintily arranged trays for serving.

Present were the guest speaker, Mrs. Visel, the three hostesses, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Conklin and Mrs. Tedstrom, and Mesdames Leo West, Lynn Crawford, Henry Williams, Kenneth Conner, George Hayden, Thoburn White, Ridley Smith, Aubrey Glines, Chester Horton, Edward Lee Russell, R. C. Harris, Louis Braasch, Newell Moore, Raymond Smith and J. H. Stafford of Anaheim.

Church Societies

Daisy Russell Missionary society of United Presbyterian church held a silver tea recently in the home of the Misses Mabel and Ada McFadden, 906 North Main street. The affair had been arranged in compliment to an absent honor guest, Mrs. Fred Russell, who is in Grandview, Washington, and soon will join Mr. Russell, a missionary in Ethiopia.

Mrs. Bruce Gibson was chairman of the evening's program on Ethiopia. Miss Johanne Eilers read a letter from Mrs. Russell for whom the Daisy Russell society was named.

Lynwood Young sang solos, "Go Down Moses" and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," accompanied at the piano by T. Harry Warner. Miss Donna Baker played piano numbers, "La Secret" and "The Palm." Miss Mary Henderson discussed conditions in Ethiopia, with relation to the Italian-Ethiopian situation. Mrs. Bruce Gibson conducted a study of the United Presbyterian mission station in Ethiopia. The Rev. A. E. Kelly, conducted devotional.

Mrs. A. E. Kelly and Mrs. Alice Ratt poured tea at a table brightened with flowers and tapers. On the dining room committee were Miss Johanne Eilers, Miss Maud Thomas, Mrs. W. C. Vieira and Mrs. Harry Warner, with the hostesses, the Misses Mabel and Ada McFadden.

Class Events

Upward and Onward class of Orange Avenue Christian church took part in two recent events, the latest of which was a party Monday night in the church bungalow. Mesdames C. A. Browning, Charles Hoff, Louis Hoff and Mrs. Isophene Michael were hostesses.

Mrs. Harry Switzer conducted devotionals. A program of games had been arranged, with prizes going to Mrs. J. B. Smith and Mrs. C. N. Turner. Refreshments of cherry pie, wafers and coffee were served.

Present were Messrs and Mesdames Frank Cannon, Charles Hoff, Louis Hoff, C. A. Browning, Jack Sticker, Joe Grimshaw, J. J. Kelly, James Wylie, Albert Doven, J. B. Smith, Howard Bosworth, Mesdames C. N. Turner, H. B. Lindley, George Morgan, Ada Nelson, Patton, Harry Switzer, Joe Grimshaw, Miss Isophene Michael, Miss Irene Grimshaw and Masters James Wylie, Jack Nelson, Ralph Kelly, Arthur Kelly.

Members of the class took part in an enjoyable affair, the preceding night, staging a housewarming in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grimshaw, 1502 West Second street. Mrs. Louis Hoff was at the piano for group singing. Refreshments provided by the group were shared by the party.

Willard Faculty Learns Of Couple's Wedding Last November

Announcement that Miss Dorothy Broadway had been Mrs. G. Halmer Erickson since November 12, 1934, was made Tuesday afternoon at a faculty tea held at Frances Willard Junior High school.

The news came as a surprise to the guests, and was revealed by Mrs. Arnold Lund, vice principal, and by Lyle Mitchell, principal, who presided at the tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson are established in Long Beach, although the bride is continuing her teaching duties in this city. She has been physical education instructor on the Willard faculty for the past five years. She received her degree at U. C. L. A., where she was a Tri Delt. Her mother, Mrs. George Hadcock, lives in Long Beach.

Mr. Erickson, an engineer on the Dollar Steamship Line, is of Seattle, Wash.

All appointments for Tuesday afternoon's announcement tea were in blue and gold, including bouquets of blue sweet peas, yellow columbines and freesias. A handsome brass tea service was used.

Daughters of Veterans

At this week's meeting of Sarah A. Rounds tent Daughters of Union Veterans, conducted by the president, Mrs. Luella Hill, in tent headquarters, Pythian hall, attention was given to affairs coming up in the near future.

Among these was the luncheon and flower shower which Southland Daughters will give in compliment to their department president, Mrs. Margaret French of Los Angeles.

This will be held at noon on April 27 in Lucas's in Los Angeles. Reservations must be made in advance through Mrs. Clara Llewellyn, 3068 Walnut street, Huntington Park.

Another party of the near future which Daughters are anticipating is the social meeting to be held Friday, April 19, when Mrs. Hill will place her cabin in Trabuco Oaks, at the disposal of the tent. There will be a covered dish luncheon at noon for which each Daughter is asked to provide her own needs in table service.

Plans were launched for the memorial tablet which the tent will erect in some public spot, in memory of Civil War veteran fathers.

Mrs. Lena Gulick Hewitt was named chairman of the committee to continue the plans. Decision was reached also to purchase a California state flag to be used in the tent room in Pythian hall.

Mr. Warne sang numbers including "Calm Is the Night" (Bohm); "I Passed By Your Window" (Brahe); "By Bend of River" (Edwards); "Obstinatness"; "Overtures" (Roshbach); "God Touched a Rose" (Brown); "The Swallow"; "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes"; "Hoh, Mr. Piper" and an encore group of three numbers "Little Boy, Love," "I Love Thee" and "L'Amour" (Prinzel).

Mr. Warne played solos including "Ours" (Cadman), "In the Frog Pond" (Seeböck).

Mrs. Wendell Finley, leader, conducted a business meeting. In serving a tea menu, the hostesses observed an Easter decorative idea.

ROPE HISTORY
OUTLINED FOR SERVICE CLUB

ORANGE, April 11.—"A Study of Cordage Material" was the topic of an instructive talk presented by Ivan Swanger, secretary-treasurer of the Great Western Cordage company, during a luncheon meeting of the Orange Lions club held Wednesday noon in the American Legion hall.

Outlining a history of rope making, Swanger compared the primitive method which is still being employed in some of the older countries with the efficient modern method, stating that at present there are 28 cordage factories in the United States. Fiber for making ropes is imported into the United States from Mexico, the Philippines, Java, Africa, New Zealand and Cuba. Of interest were pictures shown by Swanger illustrating how the hemp is gathered and made ready for shipment.

Al Drumm, program chairman, introduced the speaker. During the business session, in charge of Gordon X. Richmond, president, it was announced that a county council meeting will be held in the Garden Grove Legion hall, April 15, at 7 p. m. Alex Chastain, C.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS
ADD NEW MEMBERS

ORANGE, April 11.—Two candidates, Miss May Knight and Andrew Nelson, were admitted as new members of the Royal Neighbors lodge during a meeting of the organization held Wednesday in the Smith and Grote hall. A special initiation ceremony will be staged for the two candidates at the district meeting to be held April 24 beginning at 1:30 p. m. in the Long Beach Municipal auditorium.

Mabel Lee, oracle, presided over the business interval, when it was announced that the next regular meeting will be postponed until May 8 because of the district meeting which falls on the same afternoon. Mrs. Anna Slater invited members of the lodge to be guests at a party in her new home on North Tustin street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A musical program including vocal and piano solos was given by Miss Pauline Johnson and Miss Ellen Moore. Mrs. Dolores Goodwin, Mrs. Emma Wiley and Mrs. Ella Kilgore presided as hostesses for the covered dish luncheon served at noon around tables whose appointments included bouquets of lavender spring blossoms.

ORANGE, April 11.—Miss Ruth Sweeney, who on Easter Sunday will become the bride of Clarence Alden, was honored at a personal shower given Tuesday evening by Miss Pauline Ivens in her home on North Shaffer street. Home decorations conformed to a yellow and orchid color scheme, which was repeated in table appointments for the refreshment course.

Games and contests provided diversions for guests, with Miss Pauline Johnson and Miss Ellen Moore winning prizes. Miss Sweeney was presented with a number of lovely gifts from those assembled.

Sharing the evening were Miss Sweeney, Miss Pauline Ivens, Miss Pauline Johnson, Miss Opal James, Miss Mary Moore, Miss Carol Mae Larson, Miss Martha McShane, Miss Ellen Moore, Miss Zora Sargeant, Miss Lorene Ivens, Miss Virginia Lee Harper and Mrs. Lora Lee Collins.

Avoid Ugly Pimples

Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the bowels with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

Thousands who take Olive Tablets are never cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, dull complexion caused by constipation.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound; known by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with constipation, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two at bedtime for a week. See how much better you feel and look! 15c, 50c, 60c.

Annual Dinner Of Methodist Group
Set For April 26

ORANGE, April 11.—April 26 was announced as the date of the annual mystery mother and daughter banquet during a dinner meeting of the Girls' Missionary Society of the First Methodist church, held Wednesday evening in Epworth hall. The banquet will be held this year in the Epworth hall. Miss Carolyn Hoag will serve as chairman of the committee for arrangements.

Miss Barbara Hallman, president, presided over the business interval, introducing Mrs. R. C. Patton, who read a story entitled "How Betty Reduced." Devotions were in charge of Miss Dorothy Gross. A musical program presented included vocal solos by Miss Eleanor Kolkhorst, accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. C. Wesley Kolkhorst, and piano solos by Miss Miriam Powell.

Following the dinner, served by mothers of members, mission classes were conducted by Miss Fay Bortz and Mrs. L. L. Williams.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS
ADD NEW MEMBERS

ORANGE, April 11.—Two candidates, Miss May Knight and Andrew Nelson, were admitted as new members of the Royal Neighbors lodge during a meeting of the organization held Wednesday in the Smith and Grote hall. A special initiation ceremony will be staged for the two candidates at the district meeting to be held April 24 beginning at 1:30 p. m. in the Long Beach Municipal auditorium.

Mabel Lee, oracle, presided over the business interval, when it was announced that the next regular meeting will be postponed until May 8 because of the district meeting which falls on the same afternoon. Mrs. Anna Slater invited members of the lodge to be guests at a party in her new home on North Tustin street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A musical program including vocal and piano solos was given by Miss Pauline Johnson and Miss Ellen Moore. Mrs. Dolores Goodwin, Mrs. Emma Wiley and Mrs. Ella Kilgore presided as hostesses for the covered dish luncheon served at noon around tables whose appointments included bouquets of lavender spring blossoms.

Arrange Address
For Men's Club

ORANGE, April 11.—With Carl F. Johnson, of Pasadena, as the speaker, members of the Men's club will hear a talk on "Of Interest to Every Man," at a meeting to be held Monday night at the Trinity Episcopal parish hall. Johnson is the president of the California Fish and Game Development association and former president of the Tuna club of Catalina Island.

Mugs will be furnished by Stanley Kurtz. Guests may be invited, according to an announcement by W. C. Armstrong, secretary.

P. T. A. NAMES
NEW OFFICERS
IN EL MODENA

EL MODENA, April 11.—The final meeting of the year was held Tuesday afternoon by the El Modena P. T. A., with Mrs. Marion Flippin presiding. Election and installation of new officers was the main feature of the meeting.

Mrs. Henry Campbell, chairman of the nominating committee reported the following members were suggested to fill the various offices for the 1935-36 term: Mrs. William Krueger, president, Mrs. Marion Flippin, vice president, Mrs. John Hayes, secretary, Mrs. Owen Smith, treasurer and Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert, auditor. The report was accepted. The new officers were installed by Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, of Garden Grove.

Mrs. Marion Flippin, retiring president, who holds a perfect attendance record for the past two years she has been president, was presented with a drip coffee pot and a corsage of white sweet peas. The other members of the official board and Mrs. Kelsey were presented with a shoulder corsage of mixed sweet peas.

Plans were completed for Mrs. William Krueger to attend the convention at San Diego in May.

Delegates were appointed to attend the district meeting at La Habra April 18, as follows: Mrs. William Krueger, Mrs. Marion Flippin, Mrs. John Hayes, Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert and Mrs. Horace Moore. Mr. Hayes extended an invitation to the community to attend a travel picture on "Yosemite" which will be presented April 26 at 7:30 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Roosevelt school.

At the close of the business session a musical program was enjoyed. Stanley Kurtz, playing his own accompaniment, sang "If All These Endearing Young Charms." Verna Jean Hayes sang "Rosy Baby," she was accompanied by her mother Mrs. Hayes. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Ted Stanley, Mrs. J. H. Hill and Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert. Punch and cookies were served.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, April 10.—Miss Ruth Stoner who has been seriously ill for the past few weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stoner, is slowly improving.

K. H. McQueen, of Somerton, Ariz., has returned to his home after spending several days with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Koening.

Friends and former neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. John E. House, of El Toro, will be interested in the birth of a son on March 17. The baby has been named Clayton Henry House.

Mrs. Victor Wannamaker (Grace Moody) who is a nurse in the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles, spent Friday with her sister, Miss Irma Moody.

The William Penn Friendly Indian troop accompanied by the leaders, Elmer Koening and Floyd Whitehorn, enjoyed a wicker bake in the Santiago creek bed Thursday evening. Those to enjoy the outing were Demp Sloan, Charles Todd, Carl Johnson, Elmer Koening Jr., Clifford and Willard Cunningham, Robert Stanley, James Flippin, Eugene Morrill, Albert Nelson, Eugene Faber, Ernest Joseph and Leo Coda.

In several midwestern towns water sold for double the price of gasoline during the drought. Many stations charged 25 cents a gallon for water for the radiator.

WASH OUT
15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality
Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up at night, lumbago, swollen feet and soles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, a doctor's prescription...which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS...the old reliable remedy that contains no "drugs." They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

CUBE FLAVORED*
Jell-well

Costs no more!

Pure Fruit Flavor Sealed in Cubes, Priced No Higher Than Old Style Jell Desserts!

Although Cube Flavored Jell-well is made by a more expensive exclusive process, it is priced no higher than other advertised brands of old-style jell desserts. And yet it is the only product of its kind that brings to your table the full, rich and original flavor of the fruit.

Old. All other brands look alike. Much of the flavor is lost because it dries out in the powder. What is left is further weakened by evaporation on the grocer's shelves.

New. Cube Flavored Jell-well looks different. Pure white crystals of naturally dry ingredients, plus two cubes of sealed-in flavor... Full strength no matter how long kept.

New Process!... After over forty years of effort by makers of jell desserts, the problem of concentrating and retaining the original flavor of the fruit itself has been solved.

Cube Flavored Jell-well is the answer, containing an entirely new kind of pure fruit concentrate, never before usable in jell desserts. This flavor, too thick for mixture in powdered form, is compressed into cubes and sealed against evaporation by a coating of pure sugar glaze, keeping the flavor fresh until moment of use.

Cube Flavored Jell-well is Different!... You can see this... the moment you open the package; again, when you stir it in the hot water and note the rich fruity flavor as it is released from the cube... And finally your first taste will tell you that here, at last, is a jell dessert with flavor that makes all others seem insipid by comparison.

Prepared No Different!... Make it just as you would make any ordinary jell dessert. The flavor cubes dissolve as quickly as sugar cubes in your coffee.

Only Jell-well is Cube Flavored!... Remember that Cube Flavor is an exclusive process. Only in Jell-well do you get all the goodness of sealed-in, pure fruit flavor.

7 Tempting Flavors!... Strawberry, raspberry, cherry, lemon, orange, lime—and a delicious new one—Concord grape! Ask any grocer for your favorite flavor, but be sure to demand new Cube Flavored Jell-well.

When Duncy jumped up to his feet, he said, "That trick was pretty neat. I didn't know the monkey had a glove tied to his tail."

"I thought I'd lick the little pest, but though I did my very best, the monkey won the boxing match. I guess I'm getting stale."

"Well, anyway," said Doty, "You were game, and pretty clever, too. The monkey was simply too fast. He ducked each blow you tried."

"Perhaps you'd like to try some more. Much better luck may be in store."

"Oh, no! I think I've had enough. I'm quitting," Duncy sighed.

The monkey then walked to the cage, and acted as if he felt bad. He put one of his paws out. Duncy shook it, with a grin.

"Congratulations," he cried out. "You won our little boxing bout. You had to be real good to fight a lad like me, and win."

The monkey owner then cried, "Say, it's time that we are on our way. Get back into the cage, there, monki! You've had your share of fun."

The monkey did as he was told, still feeling pretty brave and bold. The other monkeys welcomed him. They knew what he had done.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Soon Scouty said, "I have a thought that tickles me. I think we ought to join the monkey owner on this trip where'er he's bound."

"We'll walk, or maybe we can ride." "I'll chose the latter," Duncy sighed. "And I just hope that, through the trip, some new place can be found."

"I'll gladly let you go along. Hop on the cage. It's good and strong," exclaimed the monkey owner. "This trip you will not regret."

"Of course you won't," the giant said. "I'll miss you all, but go ahead. You never will forget the good times we have had, I'll bet."

A SECOND LOCARNO

Representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy meet today at Stresa to discuss the security of Europe, which in this case means "how can we best meet the threats of Hitler?" The program, as discussed by British statesmen in Cabinet meetings Monday and in the House of Commons that same evening, provided for a mutual assistance agreement.

The agreement is to the effect that the powers signing the agreement will give immediate assistance, in the air, to any other power signing the pact, when it is attacked by another.

A similar program was discussed by Foreign Minister Laval of France a few days earlier, and the evident intention of both governments has been to get the reaction of their respective nations to such an agreement.

Lord President of Council Baldwin declared in a public speech "that the collective security within the League of Nations is the only way to safeguard the peace of Europe. If war can only be stopped by letting the aggressor know that war will not be permitted in Europe, this country will play her part with the rest of Europe and say no aggression shall take place."

The first Locarno treaty provided that all matters of dispute between nations should be submitted for arbitration to the Permanent Court of International Justice.

Germany, Turkey and Japan have flaunted their written agreements, when it has suited their purpose to do so, and no armed force has been available for use against these treaty violators. Nations apparently are not willing to guarantee peace or war assistance to every nation on the face of the globe.

In this instance, however, the powers of Italy, France and Great Britain have signified their intention of asking Belgium and Germany to join them in a treaty that will provide immediate assistance to any of them in case one of them is attacked.

Four nations are aligned against Germany at the moment, and they are going to ask her whether or not she is willing to use her air forces for the preservation of the peace of Europe.

This second Locarno Treaty, if it comes to pass, will provide the armed forces so greatly needed to impose treaty obligations on that nation which would violate the first Locarno treaty.

But at best this treaty, like other alliances of force, is no guarantee that peace will always be preserved. National ambitions and objectives change with the passage of time and nations have from time immemorial made new alliances when it suited their convenience.

The alliance may well check the mad ambitions of Hitler for a few years, but in the meantime the mad race to arm will probably continue. And there is bound to come a time when the signers of the agreement will choose to side with those with whom they are now on a not so friendly footing.

When that time comes, this pact, like other alliances based on force, will have provided the breathing space in which to prepare for a bigger war.

THE FIGHT FOR THE HUGE SUMS
TAKEN FROM THE GAMBLING
PUBLIC

We notice that there is an effort being made to enforce the law against illegal betting on horse races.

The law permits pari-mutuel machines and under this guise, betting is carried on undoubtedly at an increasing rate in the state.

The horse races afford a general opportunity for betting. Of course as betting, in this other method, is permitted under the law, there has arisen this "book-making" outside of the law. And undoubtedly the legal gamblers are objecting to the interference with their "racket."

They made enormous sums at Santa Anita and they do not propose, if they can avoid it, after the fight they made to get this special privilege, to lose it.

Unfortunately, of course, the fight that will be put up against these illegal book-makers will lack the moral purpose and fervor that would obtain in case gambling were not permitted generally. In other words, the fight is not against gambling at all, but against those who are not doing it just as the other fellows are doing it.

According to the news dispatches, one official said: "Since the inauguration of races at Santa Anita, thousands of persons have become horse-racing conscious, to put it mildly."

He is right, and there are thousands of people who have been gambling on these horse races, who never did before.

"It will grow by what it feeds on."

Of course it is the officers' business to go after the law violators, which means to confine the gambling to the monopolists.

But at no distant day, there will be a generally concerted effort to put all forms of this evil under the ban of the law.

AVERTING DISASTER

From the accounts of eyewitnesses and dispatches carried by the news services from the centers of the disturbance, the dust storms in the middle west are most distressing and appear to be a definite menace to those regions.

Pictures show farm lands swept clean of the fertile top soil, with the hard pan bearing scratches of the plow point, exposed by the sweep of the winds. In other places the soil is swirled in huge heaps over fields of grain, around fences and buildings and over roads, as snow is piled in the winter. Destruction and suffering is everywhere.

Attempts to bring this plains region under cultivation brought prophecy by government agricultural experts many years ago that exposure of the soil to the elements would have some such result eventually.

And now we learn that the government agricultural experts are acting to meet the present situation and avert disaster if possible. Work already has started on a project calling for creation of a 100-mile wide belt of trees extending from near the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico. Planting operations are under way in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and start the middle of this month in Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The major development this year will be centered in North Dakota, which has been assigned 600,000 trees for a belt 35 miles long.

Thus the government agronomy experts, with the aid of the Forestry department, plan to use nature to halt the devastation created.

THE PROPOSED LOTTERY FOR CALIFORNIA

Apropos of our discussion of the anti-gambling crusade, is another news item from Sacramento, where it is proposed to conduct a lottery for the purpose of raising the funds for an old age pension.

This, it is understood, would have no connection with horse racing, but a "California Lottery Board," appointed by the governor, should be given power to decide how the lottery would be conducted.

Tickets for the lottery would be sold only by the unemployed. This would give the unemployed a real job, lucrative employment and would beautifully prepare them as noble citizens for our state.

It would teach them, of course, that reward comes to the men who labor; that service and thrift and dependability are the qualifications that make for winning in life's battles.

But let us speak seriously. It is estimated that they can raise ten million dollars in this way from the people of the state. We believe this is likely, in the light of the money that the Santa Anita racetrack people have been making.

It seems to us that if the state, as an entire body, gets behind a big lottery, it ought to do five times as well as a private little group over here at the racetrack.

The motto at Sacramento seems to be: "Be honest if you can, but get the money!"

When California, or any other state, must depend upon taking people's money from their pockets, without giving them an adequate return for it, we aren't far from the proposition of licensing robbery and stealing.

They passed such a bill in New York. The governor, however, vetoed it, so the state was saved temporarily.

"OUT THE WINDOW HE MUST GO"

In New York City yesterday a 175-pound patient threw his dentist out of the window and his gas tank after him, then jumped through the window himself.

Very, very fortunately, the dentist's office was on the ground floor. The patient was having a molar extracted.

A policeman and an ambulance surgeon took hold of the patient and held him down in the chair while the dentist finished the job of removing the tooth.

We hope our dentist will read this, so that he can be grateful for the treatment he has not received from us and others.

Why shouldn't we "take it out on" the dentist? Many dentists claim to be "painless." Probably this is what the man had in mind when he threw his dentist out the window.

The dentists, as a rule, are "painless." It is the patient who has the pain.

It wouldn't take many incidents like this one to insure the rental of all ground floor offices in any town.

The Children's Crime Hour
—Christian Science Monitor—

Listening, as we do, to repeated complaints of parents who object to the penny-dreadful type of broadcasting that comes over the radio to their children at supper time, we wonder at the shortsightedness of many advertisers and radio stations.

Concern over this type of program finds reflection not only in the ill will of potential customers toward the sponsors and the advertised product, but also in a statement by Anning S. Prall, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission. Mr. Prall is certain that some of the dime novels of the air are injuring children. And he offers the reminder that "about half a dozen stations have been taken off the air in recent years for failure to live up to proper standards of public service."

The resentment against this type of program is not of the negative sort that is received and forgotten with an indifferent shrug; an embattled parent is a dangerous adversary for any institution, no matter how big, to face.

School officials and educators in general have repeatedly emphasized the demoralizing effects of these programs. Highly strung children are keyed up to an uncomfortable pitch by radio shrieks and horror stories; and even the most phlegmatic child is apt to have his vocabulary corrupted and his standards warped in formative years by what might well be described as the Children's Crime Hour.

Many of these programs are a nuisance to parents also, and to a degree which it is hard for adults without children of their own to appreciate. Once a child's sympathy has been aroused by the sponsor of a product, it will plead and beg incessantly for the purchase of that product. In a current radio sequence, children were made to believe, though it was not actually stated, that purchase of a certain article would aid the fictional hero in securing money to pay for the necessary operation on his ailing mother!

The sheer impudence of an appeal to any child in the home, over the parents' heads, in behalf of an advertised product might be enough to give the sponsor pause; but combined with the ill effects of such programs upon the child, as shown by Professor Busse of New York University and others, and the resentment engendered in grown-ups, it would seem that, even if advertisers do not, the radio powers that be would take heed in their own interest.

A MATTER OF PREFERENCE

After reading about Hollywood's fifty-dollar-a-week cat.

All cats are superior creatures. But one of the tribe is unique: This pussy is paid. In the cinema trade Fifty dollars for working a week. Just imagine her toplofty manners. Just fancy her proud haughty sneer; No cat on this earth, I contend, could be worth Such a bunch of good money a year.

Yet now and again, I imagine, She must act like a regular cat. And go skulking around Till at last she has found A mouse or a mole or a rat. I never would trust a canary. To a feline no matter how bright; A snob she may be Yet I fancy that she Would enjoy a good fur-pulling fight.

I have owned many cats in my lifetime But never a feline like her; I suppose she'll be worth, While she dwells on this earth, A couple of dollars a purr. But were I buying cats in the market, I should buy one that fed on raw meat; That was covered with patches Of wide seams and scratches. And could lick every cat on the street.

NOTE OF THANKFULNESS

It is lucky those quintuplets were not born on this side of the line. If they had been they probably would all be running for President at the same time, about forty years from now.

No new sin has been discovered in the last 5,000 years, scientists claim. But no man can say we haven't searched diligently. Things in Wall Street are said to be so tough that some of the big shots are having to speculate with their own money. Scientists have recently discovered that the Arctic Circle is virtually free from thunderstorms and what a help that is.

It's our guess that the chap who used to invent names for Pullman cars is now doing it for girdles. And, speaking of proboscis, after the depression is gone Congress will doubtless stage a costly investigation to find out where it went.

How to clean up in Wall Street: Sell short and yell, "Boo!" And Huey can some day tell his grandchildren how he had three soap boxes stolen from under him at the battle of Bunkum Hill.

Consensus of American opinion: "A super-salesman he must be who sells another war to me." And the Crackpot School of Politics pulling bigger and bigger rabbits out of smaller and smaller hats.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

INDUSTRIAL POLICY AND TAXES

I am impressed by the way in which the business men and industrialists of the United States so often discuss wage and hour policies, on the one hand, and taxation for the relief of the unemployed, on the other, as if they were two utterly different problems in two utterly different worlds.

They are not. What industry does about wages and hours and what government does about taxation for relief of the unemployed are hopelessly interlocked.

Business men who insist that the relief burden be drastically reduced quite apart from what business and industry propose to do about reducing unemployment are blowing feebly against a strong wind that is increasing in intensity.

There is but one way to reduce the tax burden for relief of the unemployed, and that is to reduce unemployment.

Government never has and government never will, in my judgment, really solve this problem of unemployment. That job must be done—if it is done at all—by private enterprise.

Government can — and, unless private enterprise does the job—government will provide doles, disguised or otherwise, made work, charity and a hundred and one other specifics. This will leave us with a permanent army of unemployed, which must be cared for in one way or another by government. In the sense that some ten million or more Americans will not be permanently employed at wages that will mean a really satisfactory standard of living, but will be cared for by government.

To do this government must sooner or later—and sooner rather than later—resort to one or both of two suicidal policies, viz:

(1) Confiscatory taxes.

(2) Ruthless inflation. Instead of demanding the government, business and industry would be better bucking down to the job of solving the problem of unemployment in and through industry itself. That way alone lies relief from confiscatory taxes and dangerous inflation.

No government, liberal or conservative, will be able to withstand the demand for lavish governmental expenditures for relief, if the unemployment problem remains in its present status.

STUPID MANAGEMENT

"Roscoe, where are you going?"

"You come back here this minute."

"I'm only going over here. Just to the wall."

"I tell you to come back here."

"No, I won't come. I'm going to build a house with these nice stones. I am. Anyway, mamma didn't say I couldn't."

"Very well, young man. When your mother comes home we'll see about it. Remember I called you and you wouldn't come."

By and by, Roscoe's mother came back.

She saw that the den had been torn down and felt a bit edgy. She sank into the nearest chair with a sigh of relief. "I'm glad that's over. How's Roscoe been? Good, I hope."

"He hasn't given any trouble if that's what you mean. He's been playing over there by the old stone wall ever since you left. I told him to come back but he said he wouldn't."
